CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

1.1 Significance of Program Self-Assessment

The Oxford Dictionary defines Self-Assessment as “Assessment or evaluation of oneself or one's actions and attitudes, in particular, of one's performance at a job or learning task considered in relation to an objective standard.”¹ According to the SA Manual, “The quality of education refers to the fitness of the university graduates to meet the needs of stakeholders in terms of knowledge, skills, attitudes and performance. Quality of education depends on the institutional fitness for the purposes in terms of capacity & process to attain intended learning outcomes (ILOs). The institutional capacity & process includes quality of learners with commitment and interest, environments, content that is reflected in relevant curricula and processes to facilitate attainment of learning outcomes. Governance, curriculum design and review process, physical facilities, quality of students, progress and achievement, teaching-learning and assessment etc. have immense impact on the capacity of the educational institutions and process to provide quality education”².

In the age of globalization, advent of technology and open borders, the need for Outcome Based Education (OBE) has become an utmost necessity. OBE emphasizes on setting clear standards for observable and measurable outcomes. Today the standard of quality education is measured in terms of employment of graduates, new innovations, and contributions of entrepreneurs nationally and globally. To implement outcome based approach, Self-Assessment (SA) is the foremost step for any educational institution. As such, SA of a program plays a pivotal role in the process of continuous improvement and quality assurance in education.

Advantages of self-assessment

Given the appropriate conditions and support, self-assessment can have the following advantages³:

¹ 'Self-Assessment | Definition Of Self-Assessment In US English By Oxford Dictionaries' (Oxford Dictionaries / English, 2017) <<https://en.oxforddictionaries.com/definition/us/self-assessment>>.

² 'Self - Assessment Manual' (Heqep-ugc.gov.bd, 2016)

³ 'Student Self-Assessment In Higher Education: Alone Or Plus?' (Files.eric.ed.gov, 2017)
<<http://files.eric.ed.gov/fulltext/ED513289.pdf>>.

- It enhances student's awareness of their own learning and thinking processes (Zohar, 2004).
- It provides direction for future learning (Chamot and O'Malley, 1994).
- It makes teachers aware of their students' needs and provides them with an additional lens through which to view their achievement (Blanche, 1988).
- It helps learners see gaps in their own learning and initiate self-repair to redirect their learning toward the learning goal (Liang, 2006).
- It stimulates learners to consider course content critically and helps them achieve a high level of academic thinking skills (Teh, 2006).
- It promotes learners' autonomy and brings a sense of responsibility and accountability to them (Asadoorian and Batty, 2005)
- It increases learners' knowledge of their learning goals and thus enhances their motivation and goal orientation (Liang, 2006)

Why self-assessment is necessary in our Department /UAP?

- 1) Whether the Department of Law and Human Rights, University of Asia Pacific provides appropriate facilities to provide education?
- 2) Whether the Department of Law and Human Rights, University of Asia Pacific is maintaining appropriate standard to provide quality education??
- 3) Has the Department of Law and Human Rights, University of Asia Pacific name clearly defined goals to achieve?
- 4) Whether the process guiding the Department of Law and Human Rights, University of Asia Pacific is adequate to achieve the goal?

Specific Objectives of Self-Assessment

Self-Assessment has examined the state of practices and quality using a well-structured survey framework. It serves as a preparation for external peer review and validation for approval and accreditation. Specific objectives of Self-Assessment are:

- To evaluate the governance, institutional structures & facilities, intended learning outcomes (ILO), faculty members, research and extension of the Department of Law.

- To evaluate the curriculum, teaching-learning environment, assessment and student support of the LLB (Hons) programs.
- To assess the quality of the law graduates to fulfill the demands of stakeholders and overall needs of the society in terms of knowledge, skills, performance and attitude.
- To identify the strengths and good practices of LLB (Hons) programs and underline the shortcomings of the Department of Law.
- To put forward recommendations for quality assurance and further development.

1.2 Process of Assessment (Self-Assessment of LLB (Hons) of Law Department)

Final Report of Self-Assessment is the outcome of a long process which has continuing for one year. Self-Assessment has followed the following systematic process:

- Upon receiving the request from IQAC Director, the Head of L&HR set a meeting with all faculty members to present the function and role of IQAC as part of HEQEP. In the same meeting, a committee consisting of three members was formed as Program Self-Assessment Committee (PSAC). As one committee member left for his higher studies after having worked for six months, another faculty member had to co-opted.
- Preparing and customizing the structured questionnaires (provided in the Annexure-A) provided by the Self-Assessment Manual.
- Organizing first teachers' workshop to disseminate the questionnaires and finalizing them in light of the teachers' views.
- Conducting orientation of the students and instructing them to conduct the survey on employers and alumni (surveys on teachers, students and non-academic staffs were conducted by the "SAC" members).
- Organizing second workshop of the law teachers and disseminating the outcome of the survey.
- In addition, 19 alumni were invited for Focus Group Discussion (FGD) sessions by the SA committee. The responses of the Alumni were written by the coordinators and taped to transcribe at a later date.
- The members of SA committee along with other faculties went through the process of data input.

- Writing the Final Report of the Self-Assessment of the LLB (Hons) Programs on the basis of survey outcome.

The aim of learning is to spread knowledge as well as to improve intellect. However it is not easy to measure accurately one's depth of knowledge or state of intellect. To bridge this gap, certain criterion has been chosen so that an objective scenario can be visualized. The dimension that have been accepted as the standard of assessment are–

1. Governance
2. Curriculum design & review
3. Teaching learning and assessment
4. Students admission
5. Infrastructures (physical facilities)
6. Support service
7. Research & extension
8. Faculty-member & teaching
9. Staff & facilities
10. Quality & performance of the graduates

Self-Assessment (SA) Methodology

Self-Assessment of the LLB (Hons) and LLM programs are based on primary data as the SA members of the Department of Law has collected information and evidences from the employers, alumni, students, faculty members and non-academic staffs by questionnaires. Both the qualitative and quantitative tools are used in the study. Self-Assessment has used the following methods:

- Surveys on Stakeholder by Structured Questionnaires.
- Consultation with the faculty members.
- Review and analysis of the survey data and information.

Considering these criteria as a standard, model survey-questionnaire was developed. Then the following categories were chosen as stakeholders–

- student
- alumni

- faculty-member
- non-academic staff
- employer

The survey-questionnaire has been distributed among the 5 categories of stake-holders. The numbers of final respondents were–

- student-122
- alumni-63
- faculty members-12
- non-academic staff-2
- employer-29

The collected data was processed and analyzed using a standard statistical method. This report has been prepared using the analysis of the received data.

1.3 Overview of the university

University of Asia Pacific has been functioning as a unique institution for approximately two decade of higher learning. Its reputation has grown rapidly, as it has already achieved eminence above most of the seats of higher learning of the country. Its commitment to excellence is demonstrated through the quality of its academic services and its invaluable contribution to learning. With its eminent administrators and excellent faculty members it is assuming a leading role in the educational arena of Bangladesh.

University of Asia Pacific (UAP) was established in 1996 as a private university under the Private University Act 1992, with a vision to enhance the opportunities for higher education in Bangladesh. Its curriculum has been approved by The University Grants Commission of the Government of the People's Republic of Bangladesh. The university started its operation, i.e. the first semester of classes, in 1996, and offered four-year bachelor degree programs in Computer Science and Technology and Business Administration only. Now UAP offers undergraduate programs in Architecture, Business Administration, Civil and Environmental Engineering, Computer Science and Engineering and Pharmacy.

UAP has been sponsored by University of Asia Pacific Foundation, a non-profit, non-commercial organization based in Dhaka, Bangladesh. The principal aim of the Foundation is to promote human and social development through, inter alia, improved educational opportunities, innovative educational programs relevant to the needs of an emerging society and to develop skills, knowhow and awareness of the youth through appropriate institutional means. The foundation has been established by a group of eminent educationists, industrialists and administrators who share the same vision and social commitments. The University of Asia Pacific is the first project of the foundation aimed at realizing these noble goals.

Eminent educationists, industrialists, businessmen, social workers and administrators established the foundation for higher cause of building the nation by qualified, knowledgeable and skilled graduates. Late Hedayet Ahmed, Former secretary to the government of Bangladesh, Ambassador to Saudi Arabia, and former director of UNESCO for Asia Pacific Region in Bangkok was the founder Vice Chancellor of the university. After his demise, Mr. A. S. M. Shahjahan, Ex-IGP and former Advisor of the Caretaker Government played the role of Vice Chancellor till March, 2003. Prof. Dr. M. R. Kabir was acting Vice Chancellor till September 2004.

Then Prof. Dr. Abdul Matin Patwari, former Vice Chancellor of BUET and DG IIT (IUT), a renowned educationist and administrator joined UAP as Vice-Chancellor on 7 September 2004.

He has the distinction of serving as Vice Chancellor and Chief Executive for a total of more than twenty three years, the longest serving Vice Chancellor and Chief Executive among all Commonwealth countries. He continued Vice Chancellorship with UAP till 2012. On May 02, 2012 eminent educationist, engineer and former Adviser to the Caretaker Government Prof. Dr. Jamilur Reza Choudhury joined University of Asia Pacific as the Vice Chancellor. He is well known as an eminent educationist, engineer and former Advisor to the care taker Government. At present, UAP is privileged and honored to have him as the Vice Chancellor who in 2017 had also received “Ekushe Padak” recognized as the highest honor & reward nationally. UAP is always respectful to the laws of the country. It has a well-structured governing body. At present UAP has a Vice-Chancellor, Pro-VC, Registrar, Treasurer and their office.

a) Academic Programs

There are currently eight undergraduate programs being offered by different departments. These are as follows:

- Bachelor of Architecture (BA)
- Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA)
- Bachelor of Sciences in Computer Science & Engineering (CSE)
- Bachelor of Sciences in Civil Engineering (CE)
- Bachelor of Sciences in Electrical & Electronic Engineering (EEE)
- Bachelor of Sciences in Pharmacy (B. Pharm.)
- Bachelor of Arts in English
- Bachelor of Laws (LLB)

b) Institute of Energy, Environment, Research and Development (IEERD)

IEERD is the multi-disciplinary research institute of the UAP. During a short span of time, IEERD has organized several seminars on Energy and Environment by nationally and internationally known speakers at the UAP. From 2015-2017 TK. 14, 00,000/- (Fourteen Lac) Taka has been sanctioned for research and development works for the institute.

c) The Campus

The campus consists of own building at 74/A, Green Road, Farmgate, Dhaka - 1215, Bangladesh. In addition to its own building the University conducts its activities in an adjacent building which is identified as City Campus Annex. The campus architecture is established in accordance with the Building Code and UGC Guideline to make it highly convenient for quality education.

d. Vision and Mission of the University

Vision

UAP holds steadfastly its passion to do better in fulfilling our younger generation's needs and aspirations for quality education in casting their future career.

Mission

UAP's mission is to offer best possible education to our younger generation. Towards this mission, UAP continues to develop a sustained culture of ascending to a top-tier of vibrant academic environment; maintain and foster well qualified faculty, provide adequate research support for cutting-edge research in collaboration with national and international peers; update curricula to keep up with advancing trend in science and technology, use state-of-the-art best practices in teaching-learning and modern facilities in laboratories and libraries; and provide other support in aid to students' becoming competent graduates with their potential fully realized and personality well-developed for joining the global forces in making the future of society in a changing world.

1.4 Overview of the Department of Law and Human Rights

Department of Law and Human Rights started its journey in 2005. To meet the demand of the expanding and exciting branch of legal education, the Department of Law and Human Rights had introduced two programs namely, LL.B (Hons), LL.M (Regular). These two programs have since been going on smoothly.

a) Mission and Vision of Department of Law and Human Rights: The Department of Law & Human Rights has its clearly defined missions and visions.

Vision

10.	Life-long Learning skills

Upon Completion of the program, each graduate will demonstrate the following abilities:

The courses that the students register, the thesis that they pursue, the group works and assignments that they carry out and the post graduate seminars they attend would help them to achieve the above outcomes. It was also felt that separate orientation for the students would be necessary to understand their professional and ethical responsibilities.

1.8 Brief Description of the program(s) under review

The Department of Law and Human Rights offers two programs, LLB (Hons.) and LLM (Regular). Both LLB and LLM syllabuses have UGC approval. LLB (Hons.) is a four years degree. At present, for completion of the LLB degree, students have to complete 144 credits. For degree completion undergraduate students must submit a dissertation to the Department and they have to pass the defense board. The defense board is constituted by both internal and external examiners. For the LLM degree, students have to complete 26 credits. Our degree also has the approval of the Bangladesh Bar Council. The standards are provided in the SA manual for different areas of Self-assessment. At the end of the each chapter, the status of the program against relevant standards based is discussion is summarized as bellow:

Summary as per standards

Standard 1-1: Mission and objectives are defined in respect of national relevance in compliance with the legal requirements, QA requirements and external reference standards.

Status: The University of Asia Pacific and the Department of Law and Human Rights have specific Mission and Vision considering the above requirement.

Standard 1-2: Intended learning outcomes must satisfy the mission and objectives of the program and institution.

Status: ILO has not been formally developed but the Department of Law and Human Rights started their activities in this regard.

CHAPTER II GOVERNANCE

The governance or management of the department embraces the key for healthier administration which is vital for well-organized running of the program, an encouraging learning environment, fairness and transparency in all decision-making, timely publication of results and democratic and informative environment. The perception of students, alumni, faculty members & non-academic staffs on governance are analyzed in this chapter. According to the SA Manual, “Governance at university encompasses the organizational structures, legislative framework and processes through which, policies and programs are developed, managed and delivered. Governance facilitates the achievement of the stated mission and objectives of the university. The central administration and statutory bodies like the Vice Chancellor, Board of Trustees, Syndicate, and Academic Council are the powerful actors in university’s governance system. The players involved in ensuring the governance at the university include all the administrative layers from top management to the program level management.”⁴

2.1 Program Management

In compliance with the UGC requirement UAP has set up a 2,80,000 sft state-of-the-art permanent campus at Green Road. UAP, with an aspiration to integrate higher education with the process of national development, put paramount importance in maintaining a high scholastic standard and accredit UAP’s academic programs by relevant accreditation bodies. UAP takes meticulous care in updating its statutes in compliance with national relevance to carry out administrative, academic and other necessary functions in order to fulfill the objectives of the university as a teaching, examining and research body.

The organogram, an intrinsic component of UAP, illustrates the structure and the relationships among different personnel, departments, and jobs at different levels. People's Republic of Bangladesh is the Chancellor of the University. The Vice-chancellor, appointed by the Chancellor, is the chief executive of the University who is responsible to the Syndicate, the Board of Trustees (BoT) and the Chancellor.

⁴ 'Self - Assessment Manual' (Heqep-ugc.gov.bd, 2014) <http://www.heqep-ugc.gov.bd/download_file/downloadfile_1421145948.pdf>.

Officers of the University are: Chancellor, Vice-chancellor, Pro Vice-chancellor, Treasurer, Registrar, Deans of Schools, Heads of the Departments, Controller of Examinations, Proctor, Librarian, Directors, Such other officers as may be declared by the University and/or required by the regulations to be officers of the University.

The Pro Vice-chancellor is appointed by the Chancellor on the recommendation of the Board of Trustees. He discharges responsibilities and duties as determined by the University Statutes & regulations or any other duties assigned to him by the Vice-chancellor.

The UAP Treasurer is appointed by the Chancellor on the recommendation of the Board of Trustees. The Treasurer exercises general supervision over the funds of the University and renders advice in regard to its financial policy.

Authorities of the University are: Board of Trustees, Syndicate, Academic Council, Schools of Studies, Committees of Courses and Studies, Finance Committee, Selection Boards, such other authorities as is formed in accordance with the Private University Act. No. 35 of 2010. [vide Section 14

The Registrar is the secretary of the Syndicate and the Academic Council and acts as the custodian of the records. Registrar maintains liaison with the deans/ heads of the departments regarding various academic and administrative issues and as per the delegation of the Vice chancellor.

The Board of Trustees of UAP is the highest authority of the university which formulates policies, gives decisions and monitors implementation of the policies and decisions given.

The Syndicate, which is the executive body of the university, is constituted by the Board of Trustees in accordance with the provisions of the Private University Act, 2010, and is authorized to make, amend and repeal regulations subject to the university ordinance. It consists of 11 Members of the Foundation and 4 representatives of the University. The Chairman of the Board of Trustees is the Chairman of the UAP Syndicate. Vice-Chancellor is an ex-officio member and Co-Chairman of the Syndicate.

UAP Academic Council is the supreme academic body of the university. It consists of the Vice-Chancellor, the Pro Vice-chancellor, the Professors, the Deans of Schools, the Heads of the Departments, three professors of other universities and two persons from research bodies to be nominated by the Syndicate, two associate professors and one assistant professor of the University other than the Heads of the Departments to be nominated by the Vice-chancellor.

Currently UAP has seven schools comprising related disciplines and fields of study namely School of Humanities and Social Sciences, School of Business, School of Sciences, School of Environmental Sciences & Design, School of Engineering, School of Medicine and School of Law. In each school of study there is a committee of courses which is responsible for preparation of courses and syllabi and such other work as may be assigned to it by the school, the Academic Council or the university statutes.

The Finance Committee consists of Members of the Foundation to be nominated by the Board of Governors, the Treasurer of the university and representatives of the Vice-chancellor. The committee is responsible for formulating financial & accounting guidelines and supervises & monitors all matters relating to finance.

UAP has two selection boards. The Selection Board for Faculty positions is constituted by Vice chancellor/ Pro-Vice-chancellor (Chairman), Treasurer, three members of the Foundation, two relevant experts, Dean of the school concerned and/or, departmental head (or equivalent). While the Selection Board for positions of Officers/ Staff is constituted by Vice-chancellor/ Pro Vice chancellor (Chairman), Treasurer, Registrar, one member of the Foundation (nominated by the Syndicate). Appointment to Senior Management Positions and periodical determination of their pay and other personnel matters are, however, dealt with by the Board of Governors.

The Discipline Board (consisting of Vice-Chancellor, Pro Vice-Chancellor, Treasurer, Registrar, Proctor, 1 member of Syndicate) of UAP holds the supreme authority to supervise and control the discipline and conduct of the students and recommend action/s necessary to comply with the disciplinary rules & regulations. The Proctor, who is a member of Discipline Board, holds the responsibility to ensure discipline, good conduct and behavior of students during office hours.

UAP has a specific Code of conduct. At present the amendment procedure of the existing code of conduct is pending. There are three tiers of forums in the University of Asia Pacific for maintaining disciplines in the campus premises. University Discipline Committee comprising of member of BOT, Vice Chancellor, Pro vice Chancellor and senior faculty members including Proctor is the highest body in this regard and the Proctoral Body comprising of a Proctor and some Assistant Proctors and the Departmental Disciplinary Committee comprising of departmental faculty members are involved with maintenance of disciplines in the university. There is a specific Code of Conducts to be followed by the students, academic staff and non-academic staff and it is well circulated among the stakeholders. If any student is found to have violated any rule which is punishable as per the Code of Conducts the Departmental Disciplinary Committee, after primary investigation, refers the matter to the Proctoral Body of UAP for further investigation and necessary steps.

The Proctoral Body holds thorough investigation of the facts and circumstances of the incident and examines the persons concerned with the incident and finally submits its report (findings and recommendations) to the University Discipline Committee for consideration and necessary actions. The final decision as to acquittal or conviction of the accused is taken by the University Discipline Committee as per UAP Code of Conducts. Here it is mentionable that the Proctoral Body may initiate its proceeding against students, academic staff and non-academic staff of UAP on its own motion or on the basis of allegation made to it.

Besides there is an active anti-sexual harassment protecting and preventing committee in the university (which is formed by following High Court Guidelines) to deal with the allegations relating to sexual harassment occurred at the university.

The President of the Republic of Bangladesh is the Chancellor of the University of Asia Pacific who presides over the convocations of the University for awarding of academic & honorary degrees. The Vice-chancellor is the whole time chief executive of the university who ensures the manifestation of the UAP statutes and regulations. The general control over the teachers and academic discipline in the university are in the discretion of the Vice-chancellor. The Board of Trustees is the highest authority of the university which formulates policies, gives decisions and monitors implementation of the policies and decisions given. The Syndicate is the executive body of the university that exercises the authority of general management and oversees the dissemination of the provisions of the university statutes and the regulations in force.

The Department of Law and Human Rights, University of Asia Pacific has the UGC and Bangladesh Bar Council approval. The Department takes its academic decisions with fairness and transparency.

The Department ensures a conducive learning environment. Results are published timely in compliance with the ordinance and academic calendars are maintained strictly by the Department.

2.2 Academic Documentation

The Department of Law and Human Rights, UAP maintains its documentations (decisions of committees, class attendance registers, questions, answer scripts, marks, examination results, students' progress etc.) properly.

UAP's website (<http://www.uap-bd.edu>) manifests the different schools and their respective programs, course curricula & syllabus, class schedule, grading system, faculty profiles, resources of different departments, and academic calendars (given in Annexure-B) of different programs. Also depicted in the UAP website are admission requirements, admission test schedule, admission procedures, fees & waiver, and all the salient admission information features in different programs. The website also makes available a list of papers & publications by faculties, and provides links to some essential and reputed e-journals. It provides login options to all the members of UAP for the results, transcripts, advising and filling out different forms. The website notice board continuously disseminates the updated information & announcements, and presents latest news & events as well as UAP media releases and newsletters. The university and the department updated in the website regularly. Department of L&HR also has its well-structured website (<http://uap-bd.edu/lhr/>).

The vision and mission of the Department and the University are clearly stated in its website and curriculum.

The Department provides comprehensive guidelines to the students in advance through brochure/handbook. An Information Booklet is provided (by the Registrar Office on Orientation Day) to all the UAP students (undergraduate and post-graduate programs of UAP) that contains information related to Board of Trustees, UAP Administration, Undergraduate programs, Graduate programs, Registration Procedure, Campus Resources (Library, e-journal, Lab, Canteen, Medical Center, Co-curricular activities, Admission related information, Collaboration/academic affiliation with foreign universities, Professional Affiliation, Discipline during examination, Rules for repeat examination, Waiver policy, Post admission withdrawal and locations of different departments/sections.

The minutes of meetings, decisions of different committees, are duly preserved. The minutes of the meetings of the Board of Trustees (BOT), Syndicate, Finance Committee, Purchase & Procurement Committee, and other committees consisted of BOT members are maintained by Board Secretary and approved by the convener/s.

The minutes of the meetings of Academic Council, AMCC, and Selection Committee are prepared by Registrar Office and endorsed by the Vice-chancellor. Following the decisions of the meetings, Office Orders are issued by the Registrar Office.

The registration of the students and publication of results at UAP are carried out by automation software. The Office of Registrar and Controller of Exams, with the assistance of IT section generate and preserve the information related to registration and publication of results.

The course instructors are to submit course plans (elaborating course contents, evaluation system, course objectives, learning outcomes), grade-sheets, graphical analysis of the grades, and other relevant documents of the respective courses to the concerned teacher of the department at the end of the semester for archiving course files.

The departments maintain the assessment records of the students, faculties and staff independently and provide or forward to the concerned authority as per requirements. The minutes of departmental meetings are prepared by a faculty and approved by the Head of the Department.

2.3 Peer Observation & Feedback Process

The Department reviews its policies and procedures periodically for further improvement. Students' opinions regarding academic and extra-academic matters are addressed properly. Our students regularly evaluate their teachers. Recently, the Department arranged a Focused Group Discussion (FGD) with the alumni to get feedback and in return the alumni's suggestions were helpful. The Department is now under the Project of HEQEP to ensure continuous compliance of the policy initiatives adopted by the IQAC of the UAP and SA committee of the Department of Law and Human Rights.

2.4 Internal Quality Assurance Process:

The University and the Department of Law and Human Rights, is under the project of Higher Education Quality Enhancement Project (HEQEP). Hence, the University has a specific Institutional Quality Assurance cell (IQAC). The formation of our IQAC is as follows:

Name	Designation
Dr. Mahbubul Haque	Associate Professor, DBA and Director of IQAC
Mr. Golam Rasul Ahmed Jamal	Associate Professor, DEEE and Additional Director of IQAC

The Self-Assessment Committee of the Department of Law and Human Rights comprises the following members:

Name	Designation
Ms. Nazia Wahab	Assistant Professor, DL&HR and Convener of SA committee
Md. Saleh Akram	Lecturer, DL&HR and Member of SA committee
Md. Lokman Hussain	Lecturer, DL&HR and Member of SA committee

Subsequently two senior faculties of the department were engaged for SA report writing:

Names	Designation
Dr. Chowdhury Ishrak Ahmed Siddiky	Assistant Professor & Coordinator, LL.M. Program, DL&HR, Members of SA (Responsible only for Report Writing)
Md. Abdur Rahim	Assistant Professor, DL&HR, Members of SA

The IQAC and SA have already taken a number of initiatives for implementing Intended Learning Outcomes (ILO) based education. For this, the IQAC organized different workshop on ILO, Course outline, curriculum, questions setting and moderations and so on.

The overall governance of UAP' is reflected in the survey results provided in the table below.

Figure 2.4: Overall and item wise average score of non-academic staffs' evaluation on governance

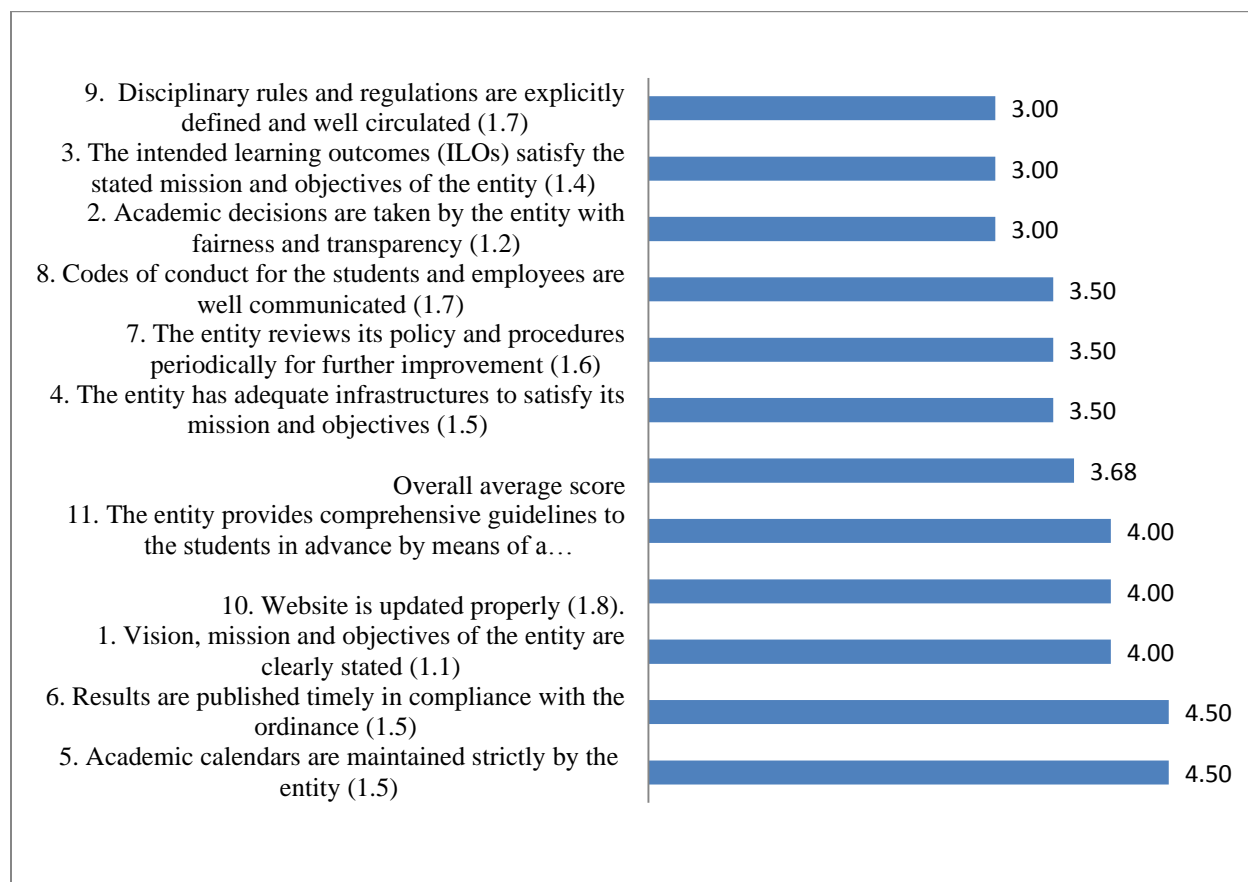

Figure-2.4 illustrates the overall average score and component wise average score to identify the strengths and weaknesses of governance system at the Department from the non-academic staffs' perspective. The average score varied from 3.00 to 4.5, while the overall average score was 3.68. The indicators with higher average score were higher than the overall score of governance (3.68) and they were considered as the strengths of the governance.

Summary of Standards

Standard 1-3: The University must have an organizational structure and organizational units with defined responsibilities in compliance with the legal framework under which the university is established.

Status: Is has clearly defined.

Standard 1-4: The institution/program offering entity must review and ratify the policies and procedures periodically with an objective of further improvement. Status: it reviews and ratifies policies when required.

Standard 1-6: The University must have a well-designed website, which will contain all sorts of information of the university and programs with easy access to the stakeholders. Status: The Department has well designed website but it needs improvement.
Standard 1-7: A student handbook containing mission, objectives, graduate profile, academic calendar, rules ,regulations and program related information in details. Status: The Department provides students handbook and academic calendar regularly but it needs improvement as per the IQAC policies.
Standard 1-8: Documentation at all levels of university administration from central to individual faculty members. Status: satisfactory but need improvement.
Standard 1-9: In order to be responsive to the emerging changes and needs universities and the academic units of the university must have effective institutional leadership and sufficient autonomy. Status: The University enjoys efficient leadership and sufficient autonomy.
Standard 1-10: The academic leaders and the faculty members must be judicious and guided by the values of quality assurance. Status: Faculty strongly values quality assurance.
Standard 1-11: Management of stakeholder's feedback to get useful insights for the purpose of improvement in all aspects of teaching learning and research. Status: It needs improvement.

CHAPTER III CURRICULUM DESIGN AND REVIEW

3.1 Introduction

Curriculum, in its broadest term, refers to the courses, their contents and sequence as offered in a program at an educational institution. Besides, it also encompasses the learning experience, skills and attitudes expected to be gained by the students during the course of the program. Designing of a proper curriculum, therefore, is key to an effective teaching-learning process. This section highlights the curriculum of LLB program, its review process, and the alignment with the generic skills to be attained by the graduates of the program. The overview on these issues is coupled with the discussion of various standards as prescribed in the self-assessment manual.

The Department has specific curriculum both for its LLB and LLM degree(s). Its syllabus and curriculum have UGC approval. The curriculum review process at the Department of L&HR is observed on the stakeholder needs and their in-depth assessment.

3.2 Need Assessment

The present curriculum of the Department has been prepared and reviewed after assessing the recent developments in legal arenas in domestic and international level. Considering the necessities of knowledge in legal profession either as judges or lawyers there are some core law courses, some interdisciplinary courses to meet the demand of cross knowledge. The survey report of the faculty members conducted by SAC reveals that seventy five (75) percent of faculty member agree that curriculum addresses the program objectives and program learning outcomes and sixty six (66) percent participants agree that opinion from relevant stakeholders are duly considered during review of the curriculum.

Table: 3.2-Survey report on need assessment
Participants	Area of evaluation	Strongly disagree	Disagree	Neutral	Agree	Strongly agree
Faculty members (12 participants)	Curriculum addresses the program objectives and program learning outcomes	1 8%	0 0%	2 17%	5 42%	4 33%
	Opinions from the relevant stakeholders (students, teachers, employers and alumni) are duly considered during review of the curriculum	0 0%	1 8%	3 25%	4 33%	4 33%

3.3 Curriculum Design:

In accordance with the direction of University Grant Commission (UGC), the four years LL.B. (Hons) degree which is offered by Department is divided into eight (8) semesters and each semester contains six (6) courses amounting to eighteen (18) credits. The curriculum is structure based and there are no provisions of options for students in taking course loads in a semester. Courses are arranged in a pyramidal scheme from base level to pivot with a view to creating ready graduates for practical fields. The curriculum contains some interdisciplinary courses which are closely related with legal professions and they focus only on the fundamental aspects of the disciplines not overweighing the core courses (five (5) interdisciplinary courses out of forty eight (48) courses in total). In order to develop practical skills among graduates, courses of last semester (4th year 2nd semester) are designed to include teaching and learning in practical environments such as moot court practice and dissertation.

At present, Department has two syllabi. The current syllabi consisting of old and new ones are given in Annexure-C.

Apart from some courses in the last semester where classes are conducted through practical sessions, most of the classes are conducted through lectures and students work through a combination of lectures, seminar group and written assignment. Students receive instruction in the research and writing skills required and are given the opportunity to apply this skill as the course progresses. Assessment strategies are also explicitly mentioned at the Rules and Regulation part of the curriculum. It provides that the total performance of a student in a given course is based on a scheme of continuous assessment, which may be different for theoretical and sessional courses. The assessment rules have been elaborately discussed in the chapter six of this report.

The survey report indicates that current students, alumni and faculty members are satisfied with the present curriculum of the Department.

As regards the consistent arrangement of the courses from lower level to higher level in the curriculum, eighty seven (87) percent of current students, eighty (80) percent of alumni, eighty four (84) percent of faculty members agree and only ten (10) percent of current students disagree with this view.

The survey report on teaching strategies reveals that eighty three (83) percent of current students, seventy five (75) percent of alumni and faculty members agree that the teaching strategies are explicit in the curriculum and only seven (7) percent of current students disagree with this view.

The survey report on assessment strategy indicates that seventy five (75) percent of current students, seventy four (74) percent of alumni and ninety two (92) percent of faculty member agree that the assessment strategies are explicit in the curriculum.

As regards the curriculum load sixty two (62) percent of current students, sixty six (66) percent of alumni and forty two (42) percent of faculty members agree that curriculum load is optimum and it does not exert pressure.

3.4 Curriculum Review Process:

The curricula of the department of Law and Human Rights, UAP are reviewed regularly considering the changes and developments in the legal arena. The Departmental curriculum committee takes necessary initiatives to update the curriculum through addition, substitution of courses within framework passed by the authority and adoption of a new curriculum in place of present one. At present, the Department is running its academic activities under two curricula simultaneously and the old one had been reviewed several times and current one was introduced in 2015.

UAP has a very well-defined procedure in place that facilitates periodic review of various academic programs. It has eight degree awarding departments, and in each of the department, there is a course and curriculum committee (as per the provision of section 24 of Private University Act, 2010). The course & curriculum committee comprises the departmental Head/Director and all full-time teachers and two subject-matter external experts from other universities, as nominated by the Dean of the school / Head/Director of the Department.

Thereafter, departmental committee reviews and proposes any changes to the curriculum, it presents to the Academic Monitoring and Coordination Committee (AMCC). The AMCC meets every month and discusses any issues pertaining to academic, in general.

Once the proposed curriculum is agreed upon by the AMCC, it is forwarded to the Academic Council (AC) for further perusal. After it is approved by AC, it is placed before the University Syndicate. Upon approval of the Syndicate, the proposed revised curriculum is sent to UGC for its further review and final ratification.

The survey report on the curriculum review process shows that hundred (100) percent of faculty members agree that curriculum is reviewed and updated at regular intervals in compliance with the rules of the university. Again sixty six (66) percent of faculty members agree that opinions from the relevant stakeholders are duly considered during review of the curriculum and eighty (80) percent disagree and twenty five (25) percent remain neutral.

Table: 3.4- Survey report on curriculum review process
Participants	Area of evaluation	Strongly disagree	Disagree	Neutral	Agree	Strongly agree
Faculty member (12 participants)	Curriculum is reviewed and updated at regular intervals in compliance with the rules of the universities.	0 0%	0 0%	0 0%	7 58%	5 42%
	Opinions from the relevant stakeholders (students, teachers, employers and alumni) are duly considered during review of the curriculum.	0 0%	1 8%	3 25%	4 33%	4 33%

3.5 Curriculum Alignment/Skill Mapping: The graduates of the Department of Law and Human Rights are working in various job fields with reputation which reflects that curriculum of the Department is well equipped to produce skilled graduates. The core law courses of the curriculum help the graduates expose their competency in law professions and interdisciplinary courses make them ready to show their adaptability in other professions as well. The theory based courses of the curriculum enable the learners to attain the some basic skills including remembering, understanding, applying, analyzing, evaluating and creating, whereas the sessional courses help them achieve practical learning including imitation, execution, articulation, manipulation, precision and naturalization. The mapping of program Outcomes (PO) with explanation is given below:

Table 3.5(a): Program Outcomes with Their Definitions/Explanations

No.	Program Outcomes	Explanations
1.	Intellectual skills	Analyze complex and real life Law professional environment, identify problems, and apply knowledge in seeking solutions
2.	Advocacy and case management skills	Able to analysis the problem. Developed the communicating skill and knowledge to collect, visualize and analyze information.
3.	Scientific and Analytical skills	Able to apply existing knowledge in their practical field.
4.	Research, Innovation, and Entrepreneurship skills	Able to function effectively as a team member or a leader in a diversified, multi-disciplinary team settings
5.	Communication, negotiation, & IT skills	Communicate effectively within the professional field and the society at large that include but not limited to writing effective reports and documentation, delivering effective presentations as well as giving and receiving clear instructions
6.	Values, Ethics and Morality	Inculcate a higher level of ethical values and moral behavior in professional conduct
7.	Teamwork and Leadership skills	Helpful to lead their professional arena.
8.	Professionalism	Display highest level of professionalism (such as punctuality,

9.	Social skills and responsibilities	Able to communicate and interact with others both verbally and non-verbally through gestures, body language and appearance, and understand the obligation to act for the benefit of society at large.
10.	Life-long Learning skills	Recognize the need for, and have the preparation and ability to engage in independent and life-long learning in the broadest context of professional and technological changes

The survey report on the effectiveness of the curriculum demonstrates that sixty six (66) percent of alumni and sixty seven (67) percent of the faculty member agree that the curriculum is effective in achieving day one skill at the job place while twenty seven (27) of alumni and seventeen (17) percent of faculty member remain neutral and six (6) percent of alumni disagree with this view.

Table:3.5(b) Survey report on the effectiveness of the curriculum
Participants	Area of evaluation	Strongly disagree	Disagree	Neutral	Agree	Strongly agree

Faculty member (12 participants)	The curriculum is effective in achieving day-one skill (which happens right at the beginning in the first day at job place)	0 0%	2 17%	2 17%	6 50%	2 17%

However, the survey result derived from the employers on graduate skills provides a positive perception that curriculum of the department is good enough to create skilled graduates. Though, they remain neutral in certain issues, i.e Job knowledge (knowledge on the subject matter), and Innovative knowledge, Presentation skills, written communication, Motivation ability, Empathy, Empathy, Collecting and analyzing appropriate data. There are still scopes for the improvement from our end.

3.6 Gaps in Curriculum: Adequacy to Meet the Needs

Legal education has always practical utilities and the lessons taught in the class room can be made more explicit by giving concrete examples. There should be predominance of practical oriented courses in a law curriculum so that the graduates can adapt themselves readily at the first day of their working assignments. The present curriculum of the Department of Law and Human Rights lacks some important aspects of quality education especially in respect of curriculum structure, course schedule, contents, teaching and learning methodology, and assessment strategy. The present curriculum is semester structure based and the students do not have any options to choose the courses that they are interested to learn; there is also no provision of seminar classes, open book examination, viva voce examination, moreover there is no requirement of internship as partial fulfillment of the degree.

CHAPTER IV

STUDENTS: ENTRY QUALIFICATIONS, ADMISSION PROCEDURE, PROGRESS AND ACHIEVEMENTS

4.1 Introduction

University admission is the process through which students qualify for tertiary education at Universities. The systems vary widely from country to country, and sometimes from institution to institution; but every system ensures that the deserving candidates get selected. This process is of crucial value considering the fact that not all the aspirants are ready to pursue higher education. Many who enter universities fail to cope with the emerging demands of higher education and eventually, perform poorly. Therefore, Universities should put meticulous effort and concentration in devising entry qualifications and admission procedures. Simultaneously, student progress as well as achievement should be constantly monitored and recorded by the concerned entity.

Entry qualification is a guideline to assess the eligibility of the student for the program. It also demonstrates the level of academic ability necessary for the completion of the program successfully. For this, entry requirements must be quantifiable and it is imperative that prospective students are well communicated with the requirements. The Department of Law and Human Rights of the University of Asia Pacific started its journey in 2005 with its LLB Program.

Figure 4.1 (a) The trend of Enrollment (Both in LLB and LLM Program) from 2005-2017(Spring-2017) by Gender. LLB (Hons) the figure is 1080 (Male 714 and Female 366). LLM (Regular) the total figure is 383 (Male: 222 and Female: 161).

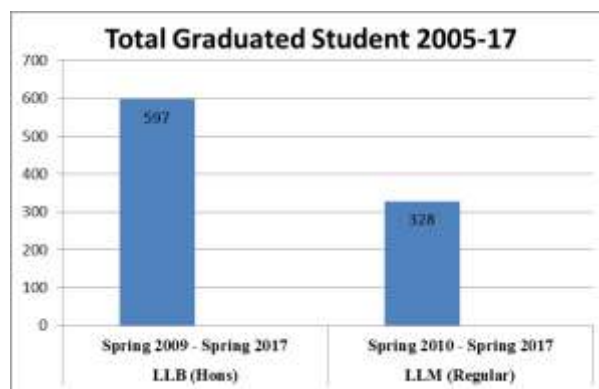

Figure: 4.1 (b): The number of total graduated students from 2009 to 2017 is 925 (LLB: 557 and LLM: 328)

4.2 Entry Qualifications

Minimum requirements for application for admission are declared prior to admission announcement. Normally a minimum of points in the results of SSC and HSC is required for eligibility to apply for admission test. The minimum requirements in the result of SSC and HSC examinations are decided by the Departmental examination committee.

4.3 Admission Procedure:

Formal admission test is arranged for entrance at undergraduate level. Registrar office of UAP circulates notice for undergraduate admission test which is available on the website of UAP (<http://www.uap-bd.edu/>)/(<http://uap-bd.edu/lhr/admission/>) from where candidates can get the application form for admission into various undergraduate programs. Registrar office also gives advertisement in the leading Bengali & English newspapers to inform prospective candidates. After that, the role of admission office begins, which is very crucial because it is the first point of contact for prospective students. The office of admission at the University of Asia Pacific (UAP) is dedicated to assisting students and communicating with prospective students and their parents/guardians.

Entry qualification implies minimum requirements for a student to get admitted into any particular program. L&HR has some criteria that ensure applicants possess the skills and knowledge to successfully complete the program. These requirements are as follows:

- After fulfillment the minimum requirement both (which is decided by the departmental exam committee) SSC and HSC or equivalent public examinations can sit for the admission test in LLB program. However, in each semester department specifies the minimum requirement for application.
- Candidates with minimum GPA of 2.5 in O level in five subjects and A level in two subjects and total GPA of 6.0 according to UAP scale are eligible to apply for admission.
- GED candidates would be eligible to get admission if they have a cumulative score of 2250 and not less than 410 in individual modules.
- Candidates having a break of study of not more than two years may apply for admission. Candidates transferring credits from any other university with a system similar to UAP are allowed to apply with the required documents and the matter will be decided by the Equivalence Committee of L&HR. In addition, that particular student must appear in the admission test.
- Candidates successfully completing school abroad are required to submit their applications and verified/attested copies of previous academic documents/transcripts from their institute/Foreign Ministry & Equivalence Certificate from Secondary & Higher Secondary Education Board, Dhaka.
- L&HR ensures the competency level of the eligible candidates by conducting admission test in two phases. In the first phase, student appears for written (MCQ) test and in the second phase, the selected candidates in the written test (MCQ Type question) are called for viva-voce.

MCQ test comprising of questions relating to English (40 Marks), general knowledge (30 Marks), Bangla (10 Marks), and logical reasoning (20 Marks) (the question sample is given in Annexure-D), is taken and a viva voce examination is arranged to check the academic certificates and demeanor of the candidates. Sample questions and mark distributions are made available in admission office for prior knowledge of prospective candidates.

- Results of SSC, HSC examinations and marks obtained in admission test are assessed for selecting prospective candidates. In L&HR, marks distribution for admission into LLB program is as follows:
20% marks from SSC exam
30% marks from HSC exam and

50% marks from Admission test

- In LLB program, admission test is carried out by the Admission Test Committee in following two phases:

Written Test

Viva Voce

For conducting the written test, the committee divides the total tasks into several duties. Such duties are: question setting, question moderating, seat planning, invigilating, script checking, scrutinizing, preparing result which is published by the admission office. Admission office then posted the date and venue of viva voce on the website. L&HR maintains ultimate transparency throughout the admission procedure. L&HR ensures that it maintains integrity in completing the admission process. As mentioned earlier, a separate committee is formed to handle the admission process. The departmental examination committee is responsible to carry out all the activities regarding admission test. Members of the committee are responsible for preparing the admission test questions, photocopying the questions; seat planning, checking the scripts and preparing the written test results. Admission committee also announces the viva-voce date for the selected students. Except the members of the admission committee, no other faculty member is involved with the process. Confidentiality is strictly maintained in every phase from preparing the question to scrutinizing the script by each of the members of admission committee.

The survey report on the admission criteria and procedure exposes that eighty three (83) percent of current student, seventy five (75) percent of alumni and eighty four (84) percent of faculty agree that the admission procedure of the department is quite fair while five (5) percent of current student, three (3) percent of alumni disagree with this view.

The survey report on the admission policy for entry of quality students shows that eighty (80) percent of current students, seventy two (72) percent of alumni and forty two (42) percent of faculty members agree that the admission policy of the Department of Law and Human Rights ensures entry of quality students while ten (10) percent of students, sixteen (16) percent of alumni and twenty five (25) percent of faculty members disagree with this view

4.4 Progress and Achievement:

Recording student progress and achievements: The department does not maintain any records of students' achievements and progress. The office of controller of examinations keeps records of students' achievements and progress semester wise and the result is available in the automation system as well. Moreover, a student adviser is assigned among departmental faculty members to look after the academic affairs of the students of a particular batch and the adviser maintains records of detailed academic information of the students.

Monitoring student progress and achievements: The result of final examination of each student is prepared in the scale of both GPA and CGPA except in the case of first year first semester. L&HR has strong advising system. Both Course teacher and adviser give feedback to the students for their respective subject regularly. To encourage the better achievement and progress, the university authority provides the students with Vice Chancellor Award and Deans Award for certain results in every semester. Tuition fee waiver is also given to the students on result in every final examination to inspire them to achieve good grades and progress in their academic track. UAP has a waiver policy which is given on the basis of Semester GPA. Tuition fee waiver (only for merit-based) is awarded based on GPA as per the following table.

Table 4.4 (a): Tuition Fee Waiver based on GPA

GPA Percentage of Tuition Fee Waiver	GPA Percentage of Tuition Fee Waiver
3.50 - 3.74	25%
3.75 - 3.89	50%
3.90 - 3.99	75%
4.00	100%

Normally the student advisers formally meet their respective students thrice in a semester to monitor student problems, progress and achievement.

Minimum requirement: Every student is required to have minimum a CGPA of 2.25 for eligibility of graduation.

The survey report on student progress and achievement provides a positive picture that department is well aware on student progress and achievement. The report identifies that seventy nine (79) percent of students, seventy two (72) percent of alumni and seventy five (75) percent faculty members agree that the department maintains individual student's records properly while thirteen (13) percent of students, seven (7) percent of alumni and twenty five (25) percent of faculty member disagree with this view.

Seventy six (76) percent of students, seventy eight (78) percent of alumni and seventy five (75) percent of faculty members agree that student progress are regularly recorded and monitored while eight (8) percent, four (4) percent and seventeen (17) percent respectively disagree with this view.

As to the progress and achievement, seventy nine (9) percent of students, sixty seven (67) percent of alumni and fifty five (55) percent of faculty members agree that commitment among students is observed to ensure desired progress and achievement while eight (8) percent of students and alumni and sixteen (16) percent of faculty members do comply with this view.

Seventy eight (78) percent of students, sixty eight (68) percent of alumni and forty two (42) percent of faculty members agree that the teachers provide regular feedback to the students about their progress while fourteen (14) percent, sixteen (16) percent and eight (8) percent disagree with this view.

Summary as per standards

Standard 3-1: Entry requirements must be well defined, measurable and communicable to the potential candidates for admission.

Status: Eligibility criteria for admission in the Department are stated in the admission advertisement. Minimum grades in the results of SSC and HSC are required.

Standard 3-2: Entry requirements must reflect the level of qualifications required to afford the academic load of a particular program and match with the nature of the discipline.

Status: Normally an average level of results in SSC and HSC

Standard 3-3: The admission process ensures fair treatment to all applicants with transparent and good practices and do not discriminate applicants in any way.

Status: Admission process of the Department of Law and Human Rights is quite fair and transparent and is conducted by Departmental examination committee.

Standard 3-4: The quality assurance system of universities should be in place to assure that levels of students' achievements and progress are monitored and recorded duly for the use of reference points, evaluation of achievement and meaningful academic guidance and counseling.

Status: The office of controller of examinations, office of Registrar and department of student welfare of the University of Asia Pacific monitor students' achievement and progress.

Standard 3-5: The quality assurance system of the University maintains a record of the total number of years, semester, and credits, for each student, to be eligible for certification and other credentials.

Status: The office of controller of examinations maintains records of each student for certification and credentials.

CHAPTER V

PHYSICAL FACILITIES

The University of Asia Pacific (UAP) operates and maintains physical facilities, both on and off campus, that appropriately serve the needs of the educational programs, support services, and other mission-related activities. The Department is serving approximately 320 students. The program is running from the UAP City Campus Building (9th Floor). The campus contains modern facilities with state-of-the-art technology support, as reflected in the Information Technology Strategic Plan.

5.1 Classroom

The classrooms are adequate and well equipped with modern teaching aids. There are only 4 class rooms (including Moot Court Lab) out of which two are located in the main building and the others two are located in the adjacent building of UAP. However, each room is equipped with multimedia and screen. The class rooms are covered with internet facilities although the Wi-Fi connection is not satisfactory.

Perceptions of the Stakeholders about Classroom

Table 5.1 shows that 92% of students, 72% of graduates and 84% of faculty members agree that classroom facilities are suitable for ensuring effective learning. However, 5% of the students disagree with this. In Focus Group Discussion (FGD) students and graduates have expressed the same view as that of the majority opinion above.

5.2 Library Facilities

There is a library for all the students and faculty members of the University which is located in the main campus and also a seminar library which is located in the annex building for the students of the Department and also faculty members. Students can issue two books at a time from the central library. Dhaka Law Reports (DLR), Bangladesh Legal Decisions (BLD), text books, journals, and e-learning materials are available in the library.

Perceptions of the Stakeholders about Library Facilities

Table 5.2 shows that 68% of students, 77% of graduates and 50% of faculty members agree that the library has adequate up-to-date reading and reference materials to meet the academic & research needs. However, 25% of the faculty members disagree with this view.

5.3 Moot Court Lab and Computer Lab Facilities

There is a moot court lab which is located in the main building. The Department has also a computer lab for the students with internet facilities. In the Computer lab there is only one staff.

Perceptions of the Stakeholders about Moot Court Lab and Computer Lab Facilities

Table 5.3 shows that 73% of students, 69% of graduates and 92% of faculty members agree laboratory facilities are congenial for practical teaching and learning. However, 15% of the alumni members disagree with this view.

5.4 Medical Facilities

Medical facilities are adequate. One male and one female doctor provide the medical facilities to the students of UAP. The problem is that for a large number of students only two medical officers are not sufficient. University also has a contact with Medinova Medical Services which allow University students' to get 30% discount for any service from the Medinova Medical Services.

Perceptions of the Stakeholders about Medical Facilities

Table 5.4 shows that 52% of students, 66% of graduates and 67% of faculty members agree that indoor and outdoor medical facilities are adequate. However, 30% of the students, 19% of graduates and 16% of faculty members disagree with this view.

5.5 Research Facilities

The faculty members regularly publish articles in various national and international journals, newspapers and blogs though they have excessive administrative work-load. University has a Department named Institute of Energy, Environment Research and Development (IEERD) which provide the faculty members and students funds for publishing articles in national and international journals, conference registration fees, air fare etc.

Perceptions of the Stakeholders about Research Facilities

Table 5.5 shows that 72% of students, 69% of graduates and 42% of faculty members agree that facilities for conducting research are adequate. However, 14% of the students, 8% of graduates and 16% of faculty members disagree with this view.

5.6 Leisure Room and Sports Room Facilities

There is no leisure room for the male students as well as for the females. Only a sports room is available for both male and female students for common use of all departments. Sports and game facilities are not adequate. The department arranges inter discipline competition for cricket, football and indoor sports as well as inter-university tournaments.

Perceptions of the Stakeholders about Leisure Room Sports Room Facilities

Table 5.6 shows that 64% of students, 66% of graduates and 34% of faculty members agree that there are adequate sports facilities (indoor and outdoor). However, 23% of the students, 19% of graduates and 25% of faculty members disagree with this view.

5.7 Gymnasium and Swimming Pool Facilities

The department has no gymnasium and swimming pool for the students. But UAP has a sports room for indoor games.

Perceptions of the Stakeholders about Gymnasium and Swimming Pool Facilities

Table 5.7 shows that 40% of students, 54% of alumni and 34% of faculty members agree that there are adequate sports facilities (indoor and outdoor). However, 37% of the students, 30% of alumni and 59% of faculty members disagree with this view.

5.8 Cafeteria Facilities

The University has a central cafeteria which is situated at level 1. The students, faculties and staffs enjoy their breakfast and lunch at the cafeteria.

5.9 Residence Facilities

There are no residence facilities for the students in this University.

5.10 Cultural Facilities

The Department cultural committee looks after the overall cultural facilities of the Department. Facilities for cultural activities are inadequate. There also no Teacher-Student center. In every semester, a cultural program is arranged by the Departmental cultural committee.

5.11 Transport Service Facilities

All the students residing outside and within the campus have no transport service.

5.12 Office Equipment and Manpower

Two officers and two master roll employees are working in the Department. Manpower for proper academic support is very inadequate. Inadequate office space impedes proper staff services to the students.

Perceptions of the Stakeholders about Office Equipment and Manpower

Table 5.12 shows that, according to 58% faculty members, office equipment's are adequate to support the students' need, while 17% of them expressed neutral position. According to 66% faculty members, the Department has competent manpower to run the academic affairs, while 17% of them expressed neutral position.

5.13 Seminar Room or Auditorium Facilities:

There is no seminar room or auditorium for the Department as a result the department arranges seminars, workshops and other programs in the class room.

5.14 Internet Facilities

The University is covered with internet and Wi-Fi facilities. In Focus Group Discussion (FGD), the Graduate students opine that they are not satisfied with the institutional structure and facilities currently provided. They are facing poor internet, class room, and library facilities which are extremely important for teaching and learning. As a result for better environment and quality education, all the essential and supporting facilities need to be improved.

Perceptions of the Stakeholders about Internet Facilities

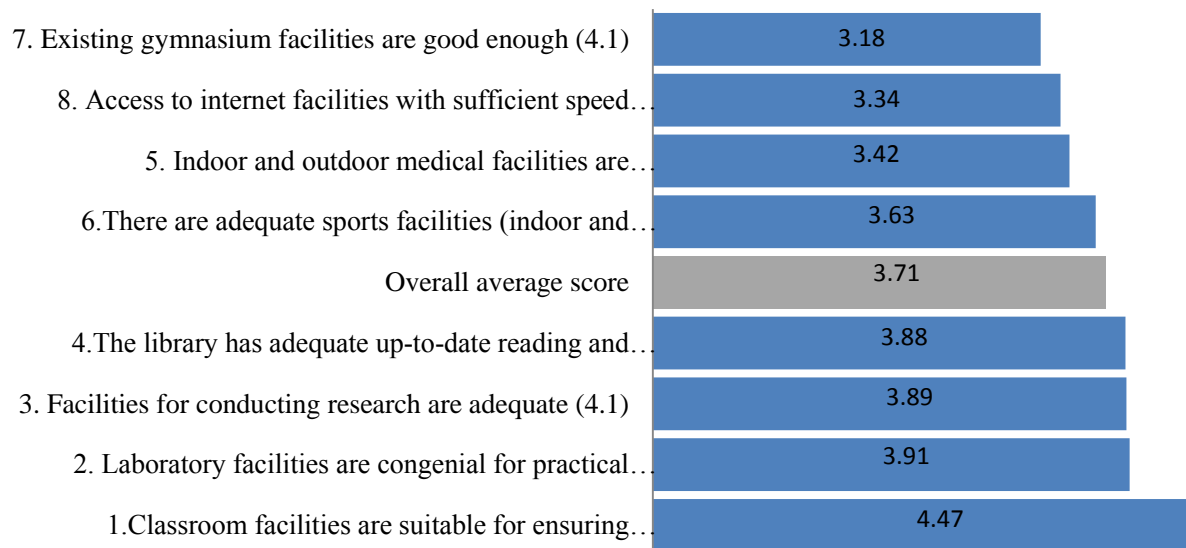

Table 5.14 shows that 59% of students, 64% of graduates and 75% of faculty members agree that access to internet facilities with sufficient speed are available. However, 35% of the students disagree with this view.

Overall perception of the students about infrastructural support

The average score presented in Figure-5.15 ranges from 3.18 to 4.47. Overall, the examination further identified some strengths as well as weakness about the infrastructural support of the Department. The indicators with average score higher than the overall score on physical facility (3.71) were considered as the strengths of assessment strategy.

Figure 5.15: Overall and item wise average score of students' evaluation about infrastructural support

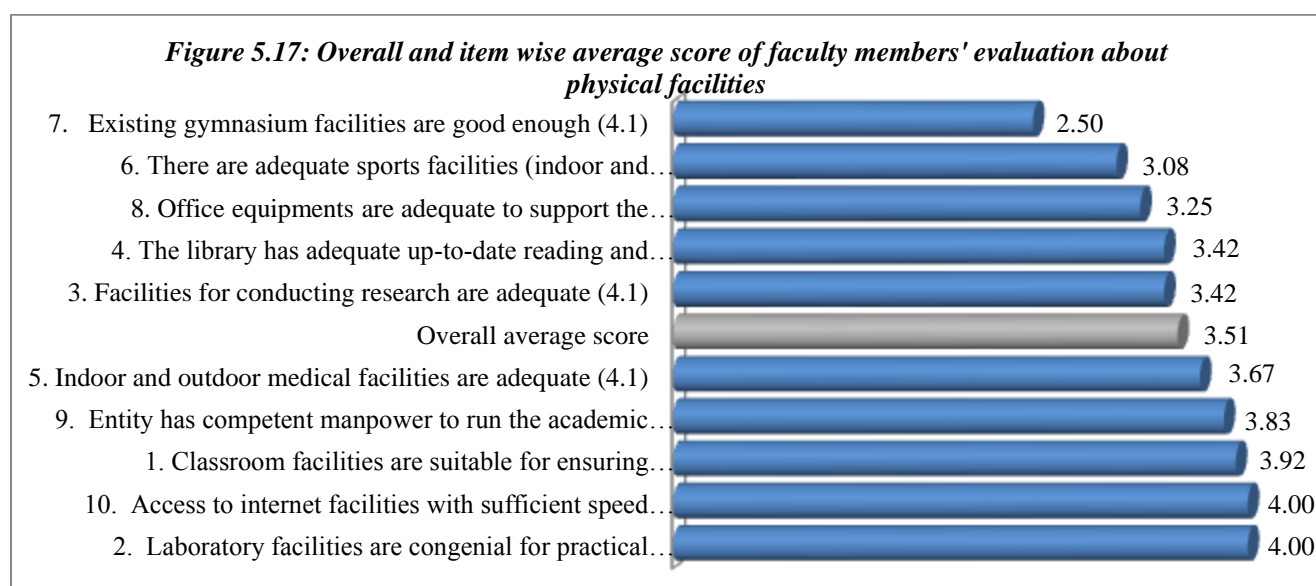

Overall perception of the alumni about infrastructural support

Figure: 5.16 presents the average score against each indicator involved to measure the availability of physical facilities in the Department. Result shows that the average value varied from 3.32 to 3.87. The indicators with average score higher than the overall score on physical facility (3.63) were considered as the strengths of assessment strategy.

Overall perception of the faculty members about infrastructural support

The average score presented in Figure-5.17 ranges between 2.50 to 4.00. Overall, the examination further identified some strengths as well as weaknesses of available physical facility of the Department. The indicators with average score higher than the overall score on physical facility (3.51) were considered as the strengths of the assessment strategy.

Summary as to standards:

Standard 4-1: For the purpose of quality assurance in higher education it is to be ensured that the physical facilities as required for a particular academic program are appropriate, adequate, comfortable, safe, aesthetically pleasing and well managed.

Status: It has clearly defined.

Standard 4-2: The higher education institution provides and ensures access to the necessary information technology resources, computers, Internet, and other communication equipment for the teachers and students.

Status: Needs improvement.

CHAPTER VI

TEACHING - LEARNING AND ASSESSMENT

6.1 Teaching Learning

The Department always gives its reflection on the learning outcome for each course. The existence of teachers teaching students and the assessment of learning by which achievement of learning outcomes can be measured have been around for time immemorial. However the teaching strategy, tools, learners' skill measurement tools and learning assessment tools have not always been articulated.

6.1.1 Quality Staff

The staffs of the Department are adequate and skilled. The detail process of appointments and entry qualifications of the staff, discussed in chapter 8 of the report, reflects that the Department has quality staff.

6.1.2 Teaching Learning Methods

The faculties train their students for publishing and presenting their new knowledge. They analyze and synthesize the information and present it professionally. It becomes an integral part of how the classroom functions. There are well equipped computer labs to teach computer programs like Microsoft word, Excel and other relevant software.

Learning outcomes are provided to the students. The students evaluated the teachers as well as teachers evaluated the students in two ways: one is by taking examinations and another process is assessment. Different teacher follows methods of their own and that. However, teachers use lecture, reading assignment, group assignment, role playing, presentation, interactive teaching, seminar in theory courses and for practical courses they use demonstration, assignment, court visit. If the methods are articulated in the curriculum against the learning outcomes, it is expected that teaching learning would be more effective. For better leaning students should get enough time to read which is not also defined in the curriculum.

6.1.3 Use of Lesson Plan

All the faculties of the Department use lesson plan. They provide the students with course outlines. (Sample is given in Annexure E)

6.1.4 Technology Integration

The teaching aids that are used by the teachers are: multimedia projector, whiteboard, internet but now-a-days mostly multimedia projector is used.

6.1.5 Focus

All the faculties of the Department have a target to provide the students with all the cognitive skills.

6.1.6 Skill Development Mechanism

The students not only gain knowledge from the text books but they also gain practical knowledge from the teachers. In most of the cases, teachers set the question paper with 60% (approximately) creative questions and try to teach students on any subject through practical exercise. The teaching and learning method (including questions) comprises the following six hierarchical (lower to higher) levels:

- Remembering
- Understanding
- Applying
- Analyzing
- Evaluation
- Creation

6.2 Assessment of Student Performance

Assessment is the essential part of teaching-learning process. Learning changes students' behavior. Whether the students have learnt or whether there are changes in the behavior of the students or whether the intended learning outcomes are achieved must be assessed through effective assessment strategies. In the common examination ordinance of the University there is a provision of class tests, mid semester examination and final examination.

Class tests are considered as continuous assessment. However, the teachers follow class room assessment, written examination, viva voce, assignment and presentation. Here also, which assessment strategy is to be followed depends on the respective teacher. Same course taught by different teachers may be assessed in different ways as there are no directions in the curriculum to assess the achieved intended learning outcomes.

The following table presents examples of the kinds of activities that are used to assess multiple types of learning objectives, and the ways that the entity can analyze or measure performance to produce useful feedback for teaching and learning. The categorization of learning objectives is taken from Bloom's Taxonomy.

Table 6.1.5: Learning Objectives and Assessment Procedures

Performance evaluation: Assessments

The total performance of a student in a given course is based on a scheme of continuous assessments, which may be different for theoretical course and sessional course.

Mark distributions are given bellow:

Name of the Exam	Mark Distributions
Assessment	30%
Mid-Term	20%
Final Exam	50%

Grading system of UAP

Each course has a letter grade equivalent to a certain number of grade points. Letter grades and their corresponding grade points are as follows:

Numerical Grade	Letter Grade	Grade Point
80% and above	A+	4.00
75% to less than 80%	A	3.75
70% to less than 75%	A-	3.50
65% to less than 70%	B+	3.25
60% to less than 65%	B	3.00
55% to less than 60%	B-	2.75
50% to less than 55%	C+	2.50
45% to less than 50%	C	2.25
40% to less than 45%	D	2.00
Less than 40%	F	0.00
Exemption	E	--
Incomplete	I	--
Satisfactory	S	--

Grade 'E': Grade 'E' means exemption. A student admitted to the UAP with credits earned by him or her in other University/Academic Institution and are therefore exempted at the UAP.

Grade 'I': Grade 'I' means incomplete work. Grade 'I' may be given to a candidate when S/he fails to appear at the semester final examinations only for reasons beyond his/her control. Grade 'I' shall be converted to the actual grade obtained by the students when available by the following semester. Otherwise grade 'I' shall be converted to an 'F' grade and the student has to register for the particular course with payment of usual fees.

Calculation of grade point average

A student's performance is evaluated by the number of credits that S/he has completed satisfactorily and the weighted average of the grade points that S/he has achieved. The Grade Point Average (GPA) is computed in the following manner:

The grade points are points against letter grades A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C, C- and D. Credits are for those courses attempted at this university only.

If a student fails to achieve at least 40% mark in a course S/he will get 'F' grade in that course. Absence in the final examination held at the end of each academic semester will also result in 'F' grade.

Academic Transcript contains the courses studied, credit(s), Grades, GPA's and CGPS earned or obtained by the student at this university.

Repeat examinations

A student would be allowed to appear at the Repeat Examinations in case S/he fails in three theory courses or less but not exceeding 10 credit hours. The results of Repeat Examinations would be published within three weeks from the date of publication of the results of the Semester Final Examination concerned. The respective departments would arrange such Repeat Examinations.

Candidates willing to appear at such Repeat Examinations must apply to the respective heads of departments through the advisors stating their willingness to appear at the said examination with the receipt of payment @ Tk 3000/- per course within five working days after the semester final results are published.

Repeat Examinations on theory courses would be held on 50 percent of marks for each course and the marks for Class Assessment and Mid Semester Examination would be carried. There shall be no repeat examinations for sessional courses. The maximum grade to be obtained by a student in a repeat examination would be 'B'- (equivalent to 60%). The following grading system would be followed in the repeat examinations:

60% and above B
55% to less than 60% B-
50% to less than 55% C +
45% to less than 50% C
40% to less than 45% D
Less than 40% F

Re-examination of answer scripts

Re-examination of final examination answer scripts may be permissible. A candidate can apply for re-examination of any answer script of final examination to the Controller of Examinations through their advisor and the head of the department on payment of Tk.1000/- only per script within 7 (seven) working days from the publication of final results. No such application shall be entertained after the time. No such re-examination is allowed for moot court / court attendance/ legal research. While re-examining such answer scripts the examiner shall re- examine the scripts thoroughly and shall award a grade, which shall be treated as final.

Improvement of grades

The provision for improvement of grades applies to those only who obtained a grade C or lower in any course. Such candidates may be allowed to improve their grades by surrendering the earlier grade obtained by him or her. This provision for improvement of grades in any semester final examination can be divided into two categories:

Category A:

1. For grade improvement purpose, the student will be allowed to repeat a maximum of four courses for four-year programs and a maximum of five courses for five year programs.
2. For availing such provision of grade improvement a candidate will apply to the Controller of the Examinations through the Head of the respective department with a fee of Tk.3,000 /- (taka three thousand only) per credit hour. A student may apply for such provision any time during his or her study in the University of Asia Pacific but not beyond two weeks after the publication of his/her final semester results.

Category B:

1. A cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) of minimum 2.50 is required for graduation. A candidate whose CGPA is below 2.50 shall have to increase his or her CGPA to the minimum requirement within two consecutive semesters failing which S/he shall be placed under academic provision.
2. Candidates requiring to increase their CGPA under this category shall apply to the Controller of Examinations through the Head of the Department concerned with the payment of Tk.3,000/- (taka three thousand only) per credit hour.

Students' perception about teaching-learning

Table 6.1 illustrates students' perception about teaching-learning and average score against each indicator involved to measure teaching-learning outcomes. Teaching-learning approach was interactive and supportive for 83% student, but it was not interactive and supportive for 8% of them. 81% students opined that lesson plans/course outlines are provided to the students in advance, while 11% of them opined in the opposite direction. Moreover 83% of the total students confirmed that the number of students per class was supportive and adequate for effective teaching-learning, students' interaction and feedback, while 9% had opposite view. For 78%, modern devices were used to improve the teaching-learning process while 9% held opposite view. Almost 80% students stated that diverse methods are practiced to achieve learning objectives while 11% of them had negative view. 73% students confirmed that the Department provides adequate opportunities for practical exercises to apply in real life situation while 11% believed in the opposite direction.

Table 6.1: Percentage distribution of students' evaluation about teaching-learning

Area of evaluation	Strongly disagree	Disagree	Neutral	Agree	Strongly agree	Mean

3. Entity provides adequate opportunities for practical exercises to apply in real life situation. (5.2)	10 8%	4 3%	19 15%	50 41%	39 32%	3.85

The average score presented in Figure- 6.2 ranges between 3.85 to 4.26. Overall, the examination further identified some strengths as well as weaknesses about the teaching and learning of the Department. The indicators with average score higher than the overall score of teaching-learning (4.09) were considered as the strengths of teaching and learning.

Figure 6.2: Overall and item wise average score of students' evaluation about teaching learning

Table 6.3 illustrates percentage distribution of students' perception about current assessment methods and average score of each indicator involved in the measurement process. According to 82% students, assessment systems are duly communicated to students at the outset of the term/semester, while 7% of them disagreed with this statement. 74% students opined that both formative (quizzes, assignments, term papers, continuous assessments, presentations etc.) and summative assessment (final examination) strategies are followed, whereas 5% of them did not agree on this issue. 84% students stated that assessment procedures meet the objectives of the course, while 8% of them disagreed with this view. Almost 80% students stated that diverse methods are used for assessment, while 8% disagreed about this view. Around 77% of them quantified that the students are provided feedback immediately after assessment while 13% of them disagreed with this statement.

The average score presented in Figure-6.4 ranges between 3.97 to 4.23. Overall examination further identified some strengths as well as weaknesses about the assessment criteria of the Department. The indicators with average score higher than the overall score of assessment criteria (4.08) were considered as the strengths of the assessment criteria.

Alumni's perception about teaching-learning

Table 6.5 illustrates alumni members' perception about teaching-learning involved to measure the teaching-learning outcomes. Around 83% alumni members stated that the lesson plans/course outlines are provided to the students in advance, while 5% disagreed with this statement. In 84% cases, class size is adequate for interactive teaching learning, however, 13% alumni members were neutral. 74% of the alumni members confirmed that the teaching-learning is interactive and supportive, while 23% alumni members were neutral. According to 78% of the alumni members, students attained additional practical ideas apart from class room teaching. However, 7% of them did not agree with this statement. 73% of the total alumni stated that modern devices were used to improve teaching-learning process while 14% had a negative view. 71% alumni members confirmed that the Department provides adequate opportunities for practical exercises to apply in real life situation while 10% of them believed in the opposite direction. Almost 70% alumni members stated that diverse methods are practiced to achieve learning objectives while 9% of them had different view.

The strengths of the curriculum included those items' whose average score was found higher than the overall average score of teaching-learning (4.02).

Alumni members' perception about current assessment methods

Table 6.7 illustrates percentage distribution of alumni members' perception about current assessment methods involved in measurement process. 79% alumni members stated that assessment procedures meet the objectives of the course, while 3% of them disagreed with this view. According to 77% alumni members, assessment systems are duly communicated to students at the outset of the term/semester, while 6% of them disagreed with this statement. 80% alumni members opined that both formative (quizzes, assignments, term papers, continuous assessments, presentations etc.) and summative assessment (final examination) strategies are followed, whereas 3% of them did not agree on this issue. Around 74% of them quantified that the students are provided feedback immediately after assessment while 10% of them disagreed with this statement. Almost 66% alumni members stated that diverse methods are used for assessment, while 14% had a regular view.

Faculty members' perception about teaching and learning

Faculty members' perception about teaching and learning is presented in table 6.9. All the faculty members stated that lesson plans/course outlines were provided to the students in advance and the class size was adequate for interactive teaching learning. 84% of the faculty members confirmed that teaching-learning is interactive and supportive, while 17% faculty members had neutral view. According to 84% of the faculty members, teaching-learning process encompasses co-curricular activities to enrich students' personal development. However, 17% of them did not agree with this statement. For 83% modern devices were used to improve teaching-learning process while 17% had a negative view. Almost 75% faculty members opined that diverse methods are practiced to achieve learning objectives while 25% of them have had different view. 66% faculty members confirmed that the Department provides adequate opportunities for practical exercises to apply in real life situation while 25% of them had different view.

The average score presented in Figure-6.10 ranges between 3.75 to 4.58. Overall, the examination further identified some strengths as well as weakness in teaching and learning for the program. The indicators with average score higher than the overall score on teaching and learning (4.13) were considered as the strengths of teaching and learning.

Faculty members' opinion about the assessment strategy

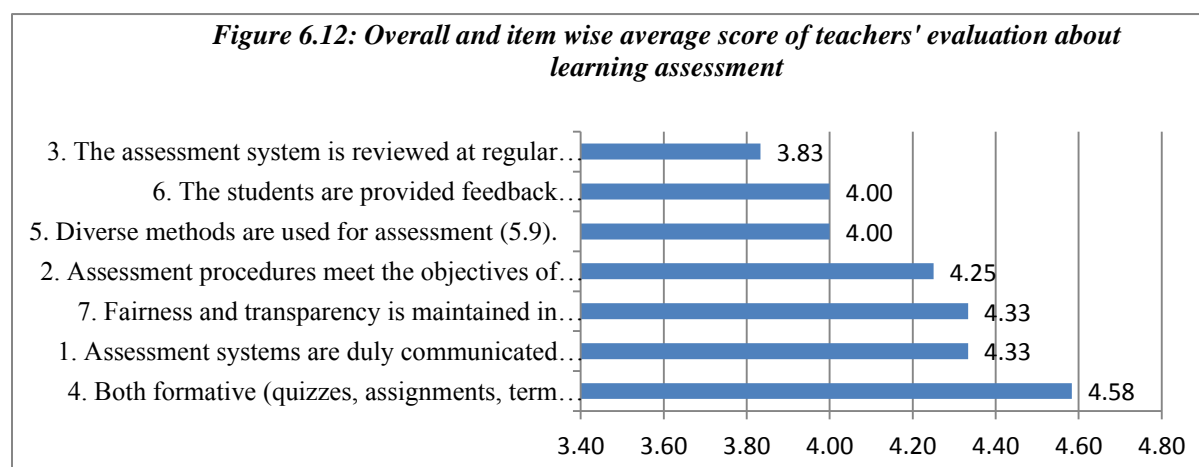

Table 6.11 demonstrates faculty members' opinion about the assessment strategy. All the faculty members confirmed that both formative (quizzes, assignments, term papers, continuous assessments, presentations etc.) and summative assessment (final examination) strategies are followed and assessment systems are duly communicated to students at the outset of the term/semester. Around 92% faculty members stated that fairness and transparency is maintained in the assessment system. However, 8% of them argued in a different way. Further 91% of faculty members, assessment procedures meet the objectives of the course though 8% viewed this issue differently. 83% faculty members stated that diverse methods were used for assessment, while 8% viewed differently. In 83% cases, assessment procedures meet the objectives of the course though in 17% cases, different opinion was given. The assessment system is reviewed at regular intervals in 75% cases. However, 8% had a different view.

The average score presented in Figure-6.12, ranges between 3.83 to 4.58. Overall, examinations further identified some strengths as well as weaknesses in the assessment strategy of the Department. The indicators with average score higher than the overall score on assessment strategy (4.19) were considered as one of the strengths of the assessment strategy.

Summary as to standards:

Standard 5-1: Teaching learning practice is interactive, motivating, promoting sense of responsibility and commitment. Status: It has clearly defined.
Standard 5-2: Teaching learning practice involves practical evidence, initiates critical thinking, and inspires students to apply acquired knowledge in the real life situations focusing on higher order of learning. Status: The Department reviews and ratifies policies regularly.
Standard 5-3: Teaching learning practice integrates the use of technology and also should provide students with opportunities to use these skills in academic preparation, both within and outside of the classroom. Status: Needs improvement.
Standard 5-4: Teaching learning practices provide enough scope to integrate co-curricular and extra-curricular activities for intended skill development. Status: Needs improvement.
Standard 5-5: The teaching learning methods and opportunities must ensure that the identified skills are transferred to students. Status: Needs improvement.
Standard 5-6: Use of lesson plan should be formalized in teaching learning practice with proper documentation and access. Status: Needs improvement.

CHAPTER VII

STUDENT SUPPORT SERVICES

7.1 Co-curricular and Extra-curricular Activities

The University of Asia Pacific, in general, and the Department of Law and Human Rights, in particular, have several co-curricular and extra-curricular arrangements. Students are provided with this facility in an organized way. The co-curricular and extra-curricular activities are organized through two layers of clubs, University's central clubs and clubs in the department. (Detail list of Central Clubs are given in Annexure-F(a) and Departmental Club lists are given in Annexure F(b)).

Central Clubs under DSW

DSW serves as a unifying force in the campus life of all members of UAP - students, faculty, staff and alumni. It is responsible for arranging co-curricular and extracurricular activities regularly for the university, such as:

- Cultural programs, such as drama, celebration of national and international events such as Pohela Boishakh, International Mother Language Day, Independence Day, and Victory Day etc.
- Competitions in Debate, Public Speaking, Art, Music, Photography etc
- Outdoor and indoor games and sports, such as Cricket, Football and Table Tennis etc
- Community volunteer works, such as Voluntary Blood Donation Campaigns, Cleaning public places, environmental awareness programs etc.
- Seminars and workshops such as, grooming session, training session, symposia on formal writing and etiquette, workshops on interview techniques and corporate networking
- Club Fairs, Study Tours, Picnics etc.

Department of Law and Human Rights has its own club activities. The followings are regular clubs and events organized by the Department of Law and Human Rights.

a) L&HR Moot Court Club

Moot is both a curricular and co-curricular activity in the Department. While the trial advocacy courses in the 8th semester deal with the curricular part of mooting, the UAP Moot Court Club nurtures the students' advocacy skill through competitions and workshops. Since 2014 the Club has been organizing moot court workshops every year.

The teams from the department have successfully participated in the 10th and 11th Henry Dunant Memorial Moot Court Competitions in 2014 and 2015 respectively. They have competed in the quarter final rounds of this prestigious competition. Beside this national competition, an inter semester constitutional law moot court competition has taken place in spring 2017. Notably, there is a well-designed permanent moot court room in the Department which facilitates mooting.

b) Law & Human Rights Debating Club

The Department has a very active debating club, which regularly organizes workshops and inter semester debate competitions. The club participates in different national debate competitions including BTV national debate competition. In 2014, the team of the club was Runner Up position in the inter department debate competition of the University. The students of the department are actively involved in the Debating and Public Speaking Club (central debating club of UAP) as well.

c) Law & Human Rights Cultural Club

Under this club, students engage in various activities. Students regularly organize cultural events like cultural program, pitha utsob, farewell program etc. While the students participate in different performing arts in the farewell program of outgoing batch, all the semesters setup stalls in the pitha utsob with participation of nearly all the students of the Department.

d) Sports Club

Since the beginning of the Department in 2005, students of the Department have been successfully participating in sports and indoor games. (Annex: List of achievements of the students of the Department in inter-department tournaments). Beside the inter Department tournaments, the Department regularly organizes the inter semester sports and indoor games competitions. Although there is an indoor games room for students, the University does not have any play ground or gymnasium.

e) Study Tour, Court Visit and Picnic

In each semester, the students of the 8th semester participate in a court visit and a study tour. They travel to a district town where for one day they observe the court activities with the permission of the concerned district judge. Beside this, the Department organizes a picnic with the participation of all the students of the Department in each year.

Perceptions of the Stakeholders about co-curricular and extra-curricular activities

Table 7.1 shows that 74% of students, 83% of graduates and 92 of faculty members agree that the Department provides co-curricular and extra-curricular exposures to the students. However, 10% of the students disagree with this. In a Focus Group Discussion (FGD) students and graduates have expressed the same view as that of the majority's opinion above. They opined that debating and mooting are very helpful in their professional life and as a result, scope should be created so that each and every student can participate in debating and mooting. But they opined that, the schedule of the semester is very tight and it sometimes creates stress upon the students to cope up with the curricular activities and to participate in the co-curricular and extra-curricular activities at the same time.

Table 7.1: Perceptions of the Stakeholders about co-curricular and extra-curricular activities
Participant s type	Area of evaluation	Strongly disagree	Disagree	Neutral	Agree	Strongly agree	Mean
Students (122)	The entity provides co-curricular and extra-curricular exposures to the students (6.3)	9 7%	4 3%	18 15%	37 30%	54 44%	4.01

Faculty (12)		0 0%	0 0%	1 8%	6 50%	5 42%	4.33

7.2 Academic Guidance and Counseling

The University provides extensive support in academic guidance and counseling. The Admission Office, located in the 1st floor of the UAP City campus, provides admission related supports to the prospective and current students. Students are assisted for payment and fees related issues through Departmental Administrative Officers (DAOs) and the Central Finance and Accounts Section of UAP.

Student Advisor Policy and Practice

As a policy of the University, one faculty member is designated as an advisor for the students of a particular semester, covering all the students of the Department. Student advisors assist in course registration, course selection, academic progress, providing guidance and counseling in all academic related matters. Students can share their academic and related personal problems with their respective advisor and get advice from him/her. As of rule, each student meets the advisor twice in a semester.

The faculty advisors play a central role for student's academic counseling helping with the following issues:

- Dates and deadlines
- University policies & procedures
- Transfer of credits
- Academic withdrawals
- Letters of permission
- Exam policies
- Understanding grades and academic records
- Registration procedures
- Withdrawal procedures
- Program requirements
- Emotional and personal support
- Dealing with specific problems

Social Counseling Center (SCC)

With the mission of promoting the psychological, educational, and social well-being of the student of UAP and to help prepare them to be productive members of society, UAP sets the Social Counseling Centre. The Centre provides personal counseling, psychotherapy, and psychological outreach and consultation services along with organizing workshops on psycho-social issues (e.g. stress and anger management, self- respect and self-confidence), trainings on group dynamics, and motivational lectures. The services of the center are extended to the faculty, staff and even the parents/spouse of the students, when needed.

Services for Students

- Walk-in intake/crisis intervention
- Group, individual, and couples/parental counseling
- Referrals to off-campus mental health services

Services for Faculty and Staff

- Referrals to off-campus mental health services
- Provide presentations, guest lectures, and workshops on mental health to students, faculty, and staff.

Stakeholders perception about Academic Guidance and Counseling

The table (7.2) shows that most of the stakeholders agree with the view that the Department has arrangement to provide academic guidance and counseling. In percentage it is 79 percent of students, 85 percent of graduates and 91 percent of faculty members hold this view in a survey sample of 122, 63 and 12 respectively. However, 13% of students and 8% of graduates and of faculty members disagree with this view. In FGD students and graduates have opined that all support services of the Department are good enough except library support needing improvement.

Table 7.2: Perceptions of the Stakeholders about Academic Guidance and Counseling
Participant s type	Area of evaluation	Strongly disagree	Disagree	Neutral	Agree	Strongly agree	Mean
Students (122)	There is an arrangement in the entity to provide an academic guidance and counseling (6.1).	10 8%	6 5%	9 7%	36 29%	61 50%	4.08
Alumni (63)		0 0%	5 8%	10 16%	30 47%	18 28%	3.97
Faculty (12)		1 8%	0 0%	0 0%	7 58%	4 33%	4.08

7.3 Career & Placement

The Department does not have any institutional career and placement mechanism. Centrally the University has the Directorate of Student Welfare which is developing a mechanism for career and placement.

However, the Career Counseling Centre (CCC), established under DSW is specially designed to provide career advisory services to the students, and to the alumni, of the University. The CCC performs its activities through arranging lectures, seminars, workshops, discussions, mock interviews etc with the purpose to hone skills of the students according to the market need for the best job opportunities. CCC is responsible for the following functions:

- Internship Placement
- Job Placement
- Arranging workshops & seminars
- Training Program
- Job Fair & Career Fair
- Graduate Database/Profile

- Employer Database
- Company Visit
- Relationship Development
- Career Planning

7.4 Alumni Services

There is an alumni association in the Department. The graduates are the members of the association. The alumni association and the Department maintain a good relation with each other. Alumni association determines its plan and performs in accordance with that. The alumni supports the fresh graduates in job placement. The association as a community has a strong bond which is reflected through their mutual assistance in court practices.

There were two questions in the survey about alumni services in the Department. The table above (7.4 (A)) shows that most the stakeholders opined that there is an organized and supportive alumni association in the Department. 80% of graduates, 81% of students and 83% faculty members hold this view. While none of the faculty members disagree with this but less than 10% of the graduates and students disagree with this view.

alumni feedback to update the learning outcomes of the program, more than 80% of the graduates and students and 50% of the faculty members agreed that the feedback is collected. However, there is no formal mechanism in the Department to collect such feedback. 25% of faculty members, 9% of graduates and 8% of students think that the Department does not collect the feedback while 25% of the faculty members, 18% of the students and 11% of the graduates remain neutral in answering this question.

7.5 Community Services

Though there is no strong institutional arrangement for engaging in community services, the Department gets engaged in the community services primarily through awareness building and dissemination. For example, there is a student body in the Department that works for awareness building for government legal aid services. Students were also engaged in awareness building for human rights and clean environment campaign. On the other hand the Department organizes special law lecture series and Distinguished Law Lecture series.

Table 7.5: Perceptions of the Stakeholders about Community Services
Participants type	Area of evaluation	Strongly disagree	Disagree	Neutral	Agree	Strongly agree	Mean
Students (122)	There are opportunities to be involved with community services (6.6).	8 7%	5 4%	16 13%	45 37%	48 39%	3.98
Alumni (63)		1 2%	5 8%	12 19%	30 47%	15 23%	3.84
Faculty (12)		0 0%	1 8%	4 33%	5 42%	2 17%	3.67

The table (7.5) shows the stakeholders' perception about the opportunities to be involved with the community services. More than 70% of the students and graduates and almost 60% of the faculty members opined that there are such opportunities while a remarkable number of participants (one third of the faculty members, 19% of graduates and 13% of students) remain neutral in answering the question. Around 10% of the stakeholders disagree with this view.

7.6 Financial Grants for students

Though there is no separate mechanism for financial grants from the Department the University has a policy of waiver for students. Students get waiver in their tuition fees based upon their results. Female students have special or extra waiver opportunity for a gender balanced development policy of the University. Children of freedom fighters also get a special waiver. Also at the same time students get waiver for financial hardship.

According to the survey (table 7.6) 77% students, 66% graduates and 81% faculty members agree that financial grants are available to the students in case of hardship. On contrary more than 10% of students and graduates (13% and 12% respectively) opined that financial grants are not available in case of hardship. Nearly 10% of students and faculty members and 20% of graduates remain neutral in answering this question.

Table 7.6: Perceptions of the Stakeholders about Community Services
Participants type	Area of evaluation	Strongly disagree	Disagree	Neutral	Agree	Strongly agree	Mean
Students (122)	Financial grants are available to the students in case of hardship (6.2)	6 5%	10 8%	11 9%	54 44%	41 33%	3.93
Alumni (63)		4 6%	4 6%	13 20%	24 38%	18 28%	3.76
Faculty (12)		0 0%	0 0%	1 8%	7 58%	4 33%	4.25

Summary as per standards

Standard 6-1: Academic guidance and counseling should be formalized with proper documentation. Status: System is available. Needs improvement in proper documentation.
Standard 6-2: Organization and Participation in co-curricular and extra-curricular activities should be recognized as an integral part of skill development mechanism and quality education. Status: The Department has meets this standard.
Standard 6-3: Co-curricular and Extra-curricular activities should be encouraged with reasonable time to participate. Status: The Department meets the standard. Needs to be strengthened.
Standard 6-4: Career counseling and activities relating to placement of graduates need to be done on a regular basis under the management of a permanent administrative setup. Status: Needs to be developed.
Standard 6-5: The university and program offering entities should have well organized and meaningful alumni association to support the quality education efforts. Status: The Department meets the standard. Needs improvement.
Standard 6-6: The university and program offering entities should have a formal system to collect alumni feedback on the effectiveness of academic programs, emerging changes in the industry and working life. Status: Informal system is available. Needs to be developed.
Standard 6-7: The university and program offering entities should organize programs relating to career guidance and university industry collaboration (UIC) with the active participation of

alumni association. Status: Needs improvement.
Standard 6-8: Students have the opportunity to involve themselves in community services under the management of the program offering entity in an organized manner on a regular basis. Status: Needs improvement.

STAFF AND FACILITIES: RECRUITMENT AND STAFF DEVELOPMENT

8.1 Entry Qualification and Recruitment

Department of Law and Human Rights (L&HR) has a good number of academic and non-academic staffs. Faculties have earned their degrees from internationally reputed universities at home and abroad. Selectively recruited non-academic staff demonstrates efficiency and commitment to the Department. To develop the team, the university follows recruitment rules applicable to all department as well as specific rules for each department.

The University administration maintains fair and transparent recruitment process. Vacancy announcement is circulated in the prominent daily newspapers and it is also circulated in the University website. Applicants download the CV from the website and after filling the form, submit it to the University. There is a selection committee headed by the Vice Chancellor of the University for the purpose of selecting the candidates. Newly recruited teaching and administrative staffs participate in an orientation program and are trained by the University. Non-academic staffs are appointed on the basis of competence through a fair process.

General Principles Applicable to All Departments

Title	Description
1. Nature of appointment	All appointments in teaching positions are treated as independent appointments.
2. Basic requirements	A candidate must not possess a Third Class/Division in any public examination.
3. Publications	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Publications in recognized and referred journals/proceedings are counted.• Publications in other proceedings of major national and international conferences and seminars may also be counted.• Books written in the relevant field for Undergraduate/Postgraduate levels are considered as publications.• Research monographs, Patents and contributions in standard published books may also be considered as publications.• Outstanding design works (judged by external experts) carried out officially are considered as publications

Calculation of Experience
Teaching experience:	Teaching experience in a position of lecturer or equivalent and above in the relevant discipline at any reputable University/Institution of higher learning including the UAP in graduate/undergraduate level is recognized as “Teaching Experience” . In calculating the length of Teaching Experience the time spent on deputation to a non-teaching post, study leave and leave without pay (extra-ordinary leave), during which the person was not pursuing full time teaching at University level are not counted.
Professional experience:	Time spent on full time regular or ad-hoc professional job other than teaching, in the relevant discipline, are counted as Professional Experience. Professional experience of two years is counted as equivalent to one year of teaching experience while calculating the length of service experience (but is not counted as Teaching Experience).
Service experience	Length of service experience includes 100% of teaching and 50% of professional experience. Half of the time spent on study leave (for study purposes to attain higher degrees), EL, ML and DL are added in calculating the length of service experience (not as Teaching Experience). Time spent for study purposes (SL) refer to the actual duration of the higher degree program, subject to a maximum of 2 (two) years for Master Degree program and 3 (three) years for Ph.D Program. Note: Period of part time teaching or part time experience is not counted in calculating the length of service experience.

Perceptions of the Stakeholders about Entry Qualification and Recruitment

Table 8.1 shows that according to all the faculty members and non-academic staffs, recruitment policy and practices are good enough for recruitment of competent academic and non-academic staff and good team spirit exists among the different academic staff. Evenly, 67% of the faculty members and 50% of the non-academic staffs stated that salary and incentives are attractive enough to retain the academic and non-academic staff.

8.3 Staff Development

Faculty development supports that are provided to the faculty members of the department:

- The new faculty members are offered a day-long orientation program.
- Newly appointed faculties also offered for an intensive training organized by the university authority. The name of this training is Improving Learning and Teaching Skills (ILTS). After completion this training university authority provides them a certificate.
- The faculty members also attended training sessions on legal research conducted by Dr. Rizwanul Islam, Associate Professor North South University, Department of Law, Dr. Rumana Islam, Associate Professor, Department of Law, University of Dhaka
- They have attended training sessions by IT section of UAP about ‘How to use Orbund’ the tools to carry out registration and assessment.
- The Department hosted the Director of Law Higher Degree Research (PhD & MPhil degrees) of Macquarie, Law School, Australia, Professor Muhammad Rafiqul Islam, who delivered lectures on effective teaching methods, research methodology, and external funding for foreign students in Australian Universities.
- The Department invited renowned professors from to deliver seminars in the field of their expertise.
- The Department allowed young and qualified faculty members to take study leave to pursue their higher education abroad.

At present, Department of Law and Human Rights, University of Asia Pacific has no full-time PhD-holder as Assistant Professor. There are three part-time PhD-holder Professors from the University of Dhaka and one PhD-holder practicing in the Supreme Court of Bangladesh. Faculties in this Department regularly publish in the journals and newspapers of both home and abroad. One of the part time Assistant Professor of the Department regularly publishes in peer reviewed journals and he published books from routledge and Kluwer. The Department regularly arranges seminars and workshops to share new knowledge and explore innovations. At the end of each semester, teachers’ performance evaluation is taken place by the students. The Department does not officially have any Community Service Policy (CSP). Nevertheless, the Department has affiliation with Students’ Legal Aid Forum (SLAF).

Perceptions of the Stakeholders about Staff Development

The table above shows that a congenial atmosphere prevails to enhance professional knowledge through research and higher studies as stated by 75% of faculty members and 50% non-academic staffs and another 17% of faculty members and 50% non-academic staffs expressed opposite views. Academics have enough opportunity to take part in different seminar/workshop/training programs for skill development in 66% and 50% cases respectively. According to 50% faculty members and non-academic staffs, non-academics have enough opportunity to take part in different training programs for skill development, while 25% of faculty members and 50% of non-academic staffs expressed neutral position. As per 58% of the faculty members and all the non-academic staffs, the Department has a policy to provide mentoring/continuous guidance for new academic staff, while 25% of faculty members had different perception. According to 75% of faculty members and 50% non-academic staffs, the Department practices seminars and workshops to share knowledge and experience among the faculty members and another 8% of faculty members and 50% of the non-academic staffs expressed neutral position.

8.4 Key Performance Indicator

Rules relating to recruitment and promotion are fair. Rules for assisting the staffs as to their service and improvement are in place on behalf of the Faculty/Department. There are sufficient opportunities for the staffs to take part in different types of training for enhancing their professional competence. Teachers work load in teaching and research is unjustified. Academics have enough opportunity to take part in different training program for skill development. Nonacademic staffs are competent and responsive. Though they need professional training and workshop. Teacher student ratio is not appropriate. The Department has a policy to complement academic staffs related to service, development and appraisal. The Department provides mentoring and formative guidance for new academic staff as part of its staff development program. The Department provides necessary training, tools and technology for self-learning, access to information and for communication to the academic staffs.

Perceptions of the Stakeholders about Key Performance Indicator

The table above shows that the Department has a performance award policy to inspire academic staff, 59% of faculty members and 50% of non-academic staffs and 33% faculties and 50% of non-academic staffs agreed and disagreed respectively. Performance indicators are the criteria for promotion as stated by 50% faculty members and non-academic staffs respectively.

Faculty members' perception about recruitment and staff development

Figure-8.5 illustrates the overall average score and component wise average score to identify the strengths and weaknesses for recruitment and development of non-academic staff. The average score varied between 3.42 to 4.58 and the overall score was found to be 3.86. The indicators with higher average score than the overall score (3.86) for recruitment and development of non-academic staff were considered as the strengths of governance.

Non-academic Staffs

Figure-8.6 illustrates the overall average score and component wise average score to identify the strengths and weaknesses for recruitment and development of non-academic staff. The average score varied between 3.0 to 4.50 and the overall score was found to be 3.60. The indicators with higher average score than the overall score (3.60) for recruitment and development of non-academic staff were considered as the strength of governance.

Status: Good documentation exists.

CHAPTER IX

RESEARCH AND EXTENSION

9.1 Policy and program

The University as a whole has a very rigorous approach to Research and Extension. The Department of Law and Human Rights in particular is also working in consonance with the University's approach through different activities.

Faculty Research

The faculty members are required to publish research works in order to get promotion and/or increment. Administration appreciates the faculty members publishing their works. On the part of the students there are mandatory researches as part of the completion of their degree. Law reports and online case law search database (Manupatra) is available from the Department. There is access to international journal databases (e.g. OARE, ARDI etc) through the INASP. One weakness in policy is that faculty research is not mandatory for all the faculty members, unless they apply for promotion or increment. However, faculty members are regularly engaged in research. A list of research of the faculty members done in recent semesters is annexed towards the end of the report.

Students' Research

Students are required to conduct noncredit researches as a part of their degree both in LL.B. and LL.M. programs. According to the UGC approved curriculum of the Department, students are under a requirement to conduct research guided by the faculty members (known as research advisors). This is usually done in their final semester of study. The copies of the research are kept in the library repository of the University. A list of recent semesters' students' research of LL.B. (Hon's) is hereafter annexed as examples:

Example - Research of Final Semester students in Spring 2017 (Table 9.1 (A)).

Stakeholders’ perception about research and development policy

Table 9.1 (B): Perceptions of the Stakeholders about research and development policy
Participants type	Area of evaluation	Strongly disagree	Disagree	Neutral	Agree	Strongly agree	Mean
Students (122)	The entity has a well-defined research and development policy (8.1)	7 6%	4 3%	11 9%	41 33%	59 48%	4.16
Alumni (63)		1 2%	2 3%	12 19%	18 28%	30 47%	4.17
Faculty (12)		0 0%	3 25%	4 33%	3 25%	2 17%	3.33

However, according to the survey around 80% of students and graduates and only 42% of faculty members think that the Department has a well-defined research and development policy. While one fourth of the faculty members disagree with this view and one third of them remain neutral in answering this question. Also nearly 20% of graduates and nearly 10% of students are neutral on this question while 5% of graduates and 9% of students disagree with the majority’s view.

Stakeholders' perception about mechanism for engaging students in research and development

Table 9.1 (C): Perceptions of the Stakeholders about mechanism for engaging students in research and development
Participants type	Area of evaluation	Strongly disagree	Disagree	Neutral	Agree	Strongly agree	Mean
Students (122)	Mechanism exists for engaging the students in research and development (8.2)	6 5%	9 7%	13 11%	46 37%	48 39%	3.99
Alumni (63)		2 3%	5 8%	8 13%	19 30%	29 45%	4.08
Faculty (12)		1 8%	2 17%	5 42%	2 17%	2 17%	3.17

Around 75% of the students and graduates and only 34% of the faculty members opined that the Department has a mechanism for engaging the students in research and development. 25% of faculty members, 11% of graduates and 12% of students disagree with the view that the majority of the stakeholders holds while 42% of the faculty members, 13% of graduates remain neutral while answering this question.

Stakeholders' perception of community service policy

Table 9.1(D): Perceptions of the Stakeholders about community service policy
Participants type	Area of evaluation	Strongly disagree	Disagree	Neutral	Agree	Strongly agree	Mean
Students (122)	The entity has a community service policy (8.3)	7 6%	6 5%	15 12%	45 37%	49 40%	4.01
Alumni (63)		3 5%	5 8%	7 11%	28 44%	20 31%	3.90
Faculty (12)		0 0%	3 25%	6 50%	1 8%	2 17%	3.17

Around 75% of the graduates and students agree with the view that the Department has a community service policy while more than 10% of them disagree with this view and another 10% remains neutral. The perceptions of the faculty members are different than that of the graduates and students, as one fourth of the faculty members agree and equal number of them disagrees with this view while 50% of them remain neutral about this question.

9.2 Fund and facilities

University has an institutional mechanism to facilitate and fund research. The Institute for Energy, Environment, Research and Development (IEERD) supports research with funds. IEERD is a central research and academic institute responsible for disbursement of funding to academicians of various departments of UAP. IEERD has provision for funding of the following research expenditures:

- i. Publication charge for publishing research article in reputed journals.
- ii. Registration fee, transportation and accommodation cost for presenting research outcomes in national and international conference/symposium/workshop/seminar/meeting.
- iii. Expenses for conducting Research works at UAP.

According to the Department's record, the following list shows the IEERD Funding in research, conference participation and article publication:

Funding in researches From IEERD and the University (Table 9.2)

Serial No.	Faculty Name	Designation	Name of Topic	Amount	Date
1.	Dr. ANM Atahar Ali	Head	Improper Labeling of Manufacturing and Expired Date on Packet: A Legal Study on Safety and Quality of Food Products in Bangladesh	50,000/-	15.04.2015
2.	Mohammad Irfan Aziz	Lecturer
3.	Shahnewaj	RA/TA
4.	Md. Lokman Hussain	Lecturer	"Consumer Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights"	5,000/-	22.12.2016
5.	Md. Saleh Akram	Lecturer	"A Critical Analysis of Access to Justice in Bangladesh"	7,837/-	02.10.2017
Funding From the University in research (other than IEERD)
6	Dr. ANM Atahar Ali	Assistant Professor	To attend the conference at Harvard University, USA	1,23,900/-	11.03.2015
7	Ms. Nazia Wahab	Assistant Professor	To attend Fifth International Research Conference on Humanities and Social Sciences (IRCHSS-2016) in Sri Lanka	40,000/-	05.09.2016
8	Abdur Rahim	Assistant Professor	To attend in 'International Conference in Administration Criminal Law in India' at Galgotias University Uttar Pradesh	20,000/-	16.11.2016

It is the responsibility of IEERD to cater to the fund requirements of UAP for carrying out research works. From July 2015 to June 2017 total budget allocation of IEERD was TK. 14,00,000 (Fourteen Lac) for funding research projects, which involves significant cost, a faculty or a group of faculties with a valid research proposal can apply to IEERD. For funding these projects, there is no stated floor or ceiling on how much to allocate for each faculty or each department. However, Department of Law and HR has their own budget for research and extension. Last 2015-2016 financial year this budget was 4,50,000/ (Four Lac and Fifty Thousand Taka Only) and in this financial year (2016-2016) the budget is 6,50,000/- (six lac and Fifty Thousand taka only). Department, is spending this budget for research, seminar conference and publication. (The list of the latest faculty publications is given in Annexure-G.)

9.3 Grants for research

It is relatively difficult for the law departments of private universities to hunt and gather funds in Bangladesh as there is a tendency to give priority to the public universities in investment/ allocation of funds in research. Legal NGOs and the Public Universities in Bangladesh have taken the leading place of getting research funds. However, faculty members try to hunt funds for their research and also try to get externally funded research projects as well. According to the survey, half of the faculty members remain neutral in answering this question while one third of them strongly agree with the view that the teachers always take initiative to hunt research fund for smooth running of the research and 17 % of them disagree with this view.

Table 9.3: Perceptions of the teachers about fund hunting
Participants type	Area of evaluation	Strongly disagree	Disagree	Neutral	Agree	Strongly agree	Mean
Faculty (12)	Teachers always take initiative to hunt research fund for smooth running of the research (8.3)	0 0%	2 17%	6 50%	0 0%	4 33%	3.50

9.4 Dissemination of research findings

Department disseminates the research findings in different ways. Faculty members publish their research works in reputed journals; present them in national and international seminars both in Bangladesh and abroad. Sometimes the Department organizes seminar on research findings. For example, in 2014 and 2015 two seminars have been taken place in the Department. Most notably the Department publishes an annual journal, the UAP Journal of Law and Policy with ISSN 2518-024).

Summary of Standards

Standard 8-1: University must develop capacity with appropriate facilities and provisions to undertake research with national relevance and give due motivation and recognition to researchers. Status: Needs improvement.
Standard 8-2: University should have institutional approach to explore the possibility of corporate funding through university industry research collaboration. Status: Needs to be developed.
Standard 8-3: University should have a system and policy to disseminate and transfer the research findings to the industry and community through extension services. Status: The system partially exists. Needs to be improved.
Standard 8-4: Initiative to have patent of innovations need to be encouraged and supported by the university authority. Status: This criteria is not directly applicable to the discipline of law and human rights.

CHAPTER X

PROCESS MANAGEMENT AND CONTINUOUS IMPROVEMENT

For ensuring quality education, defining, developing, and improving processes of education systems are imperative. This chapter describes the process management and continuous improvement strategies applied and further incorporation needed at the Department of Law and Human Rights (L&HR), University of Asia Pacific (UAP).

The Institutional Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) has been set up in the University in 2015. Department of Law and Human Rights has been involved in the process through formation of its (Self-Assessment Committee) SAC in October 2016. Beside and also before IQAC, the University takes her different initiatives in ensuring quality. The University would arrange day long workshops for newly appointed faculty members. Recently the University started arranging month long training and workshops for newly appointed faculty members while there are occasional workshops for faculty members under the activity plan of SA Committee of the Department. Curriculum was updated in 2015 with effect from spring 2016, which has already been discussed in this report. Faculty members of the Department regularly submit and follow the course outlines. The system of teachers' evaluation by the students is also a part of that quality assurance.

Academic calendar is followed by the entity and the University in order to progress systematically. Due to this systematic approach, faculty members, students, and administration can execute their respective functions effectively and efficiently

This uniformity leads to consistency of final assessment of students from level to level and promotes bloom's taxonomy among teachers for fair judgments of the course.

UAP has its own policy for conducting exam procedure. This was sanctioned on 2003 and which has been updated from time to time. (Exam rules of UAP is given here as Annexure-H.)

10.1 Self-assessment

Self-Assessment has been a preeminent general issue for the university and for the department in particular. The Department follows the university's direction and conduct self-assessments. Moreover, the department assesses different issues of the department and takes necessary actions and formulates policies for continuous assessment. For example, the Department of Law and Human Rights has a Quality Assurance Committee for observing and monitoring the condition of quality education in the department including self-assessment related activities.

Table 10.1: Perceptions of the teachers about Self-assessment
Participants type	Area of evaluation	Strongly disagree	Disagree	Neutral	Agree	Strongly agree	Mean
Faculty (12)	The entity embraces the spirit of continual quality improvement (9.2).	1 8%	0 0%	0 0%	6 50%	5 42%	4.17
	The entity always acts in compliance with the decision of the university regarding continuous quality improvement (9.1)	1 8%	0 0%	2 17%	7 58%	2 17%	3.75
	Academic programs are reviewed by the entity for the enhancement students' learning (9.3).	1 8%	1 8%	2 17%	5 42%	3 25%	3.67

According to the survey more than 90% faculty members opined that the Department embraces the spirit of continual quality improvement while 8% of them strongly disagree with this view. Three fourth (3/4) of the faculty members opined that the Department always acts in compliance with the decision of the University regarding continuous quality improvement while 8% disagree with and 17% remain neutral about this view. 67% teachers opined that the academic programs are reviewed by the Department for the enhancement of the students' learning while 17% disagree with and another 17% remain neutral about this view.

10.2 Improvement plan

There is After the SA Report and review, the Department will have an improvement plan. The University has formed a body named Strategic Planning Committee (SPC) comprising with the Board of Trustees, Registrar, Treasurer and all heads and Deans of UAP. The committee holds meeting every month to assess, explore, and expedite strategies to keep up with the challenges of the industry. All the departments of the university are bound to submit any developed strategies, ideas and thoughts to this committee for approval. Upon approval of SPC, respective department acquires the authority to implement developed strategy (s) for improvement of the department.

10.3 Stakeholders feedback

Table 9.3: Perceptions of the teachers about stakeholders feedback
Participants type	Area of evaluation	Strongly disagree	Disagree	Neutral	Agree	Strongly agree	Mean
Faculty (12)	The entity ensures a usual practice for students'/ Alumni's feedback as a culture (9.4)	1 8%	1 8%	6 50%	1 8%	3 25%	3.33

There are informal practice of students and alumni's feedback for process management and continuous improvement. The system is yet to be properly developed. Only one third (1/3) of the faculty members opined that the Department ensures a usual practice for students'/ alumni's feedback as a culture while half (1/2) of them remain neutral in answering the question and 16% disagree with this view.

10.4 Use of peer observation results and feedback

The Department does not have established mechanism for this. However the SA committee is working under the IQAC and after this review, the Department will appropriately use the peer observation and all feedbacks according to the guidelines of the University.

Summary of standards:

Standard 9-1: University or the entity must have internal quality assurance system with set policies and procedures for quality assurance. Status: The system has recently been set up. Needs to be continued.
Standard 9-2: The University or the entity conducts self-assessment following a cycle, develops strategic plan, identifies the limitations to implement the plan and adopts corrective measures for attainment of desired quality. Status: The system has recently been set up. It will be followed in the future.
Standard 9-3: The University or the entity continually and systematically reviews the effectiveness of the procedures to meet the objectives. Status: It will be followed.

CHAPTER XI

SWOT ANALYSIS

A SWOT analysis is a structured assessment of an institution's strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats. SWOT is an acronym that stands for Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities, and Threats. Strengths and weaknesses are internal to the company and can be changed over time with proper strategies. Opportunities and threats are external dimensions and organizations have little control over these factors; however, strategies must adapt and adjust to different situations by administering applicable strategies. Any organization can perform SWOT analysis at any time to assess a changing environment and develop strategies accordingly. Thus, Department of L&HR decided to go through brainstorming sessions to identify the factors affecting Department of L&HR in each of the four categories mentioned above. After completion of brainstorming sessions, the entity finalized the SWOT analysis by listing the factors in each category in order of importance as identified by the team members.

11.1 Strengths

Governance

- Vision, Mission, Program Educational Objectives, Program Objectives, and Mappings are clearly stated.
- UAP management adheres to well defined service rules and human resource policies.
- UAP has a well-defined organogram depicting the structure and relationships among different employees, departments and jobs at different levels.
- The institution awards fellowships, scholarships, prizes and medals in accordance with the University regulations, sets up and maintains laboratories, workshops, centers and institutes for the development of teaching and research, regulates co-curricular activities and helps the students to develop a healthy and well-groomed personality.
- A disciplined environment is maintained through the active presence of proctorial committee disciplinary board and sexual harassment committee. Violation of any UAP rules leads to fine, suspension, expulsion, or rustication.

- Department has commitment, sense of responsibility, team work, collaboration and Co-ordination among the top management, academic, administrative and support units of the university.
- Good interaction among the teachers, students and non-academic staffs. Students have found that some of the teachers are cooperative and friendly in making their career plan and placing them in their fit places after completion of education.
- The entity has a well-designed website.
- The entity authority provides student's handbook (academic calendar, and program related information in details)
- The entity followed the documentation process at all levels of university administration from central to Individual faculty members.
- In UAP, academic leaders and the faculty members are judicious and guided by the values of quality assurance.
- Our existing students have an opportunity to evaluate their faculties.
- L&HR have an well-structured alumni association.

Curriculum Design & Review

- University has a well-defined procedure that ensures periodic review of various academic programs.
- Course contents, assessment strategies, prerequisites, clearly stated in the curriculum.
- L&HR has a well-structured course and curriculum committee, which carries out the responsibility of assigning the distribution of the course load among the faculty members.
- Department's Program and syllabus are UGC and Bangladesh Bar Council approved

Student Admission Progress & Achievement

- To ensure quality intake, LLB program requires specified GPA of both in SSC and HSC or equivalent exam apply for admission.
- Each newly admitted student is assigned to an adviser who monitors his /her progress.
- Counseling hours are set by all faculties which are one third of the total credit hours. During the counseling hour, presence of the students is made mandatory

Teaching Learning & Assessment

- LLB program is practicing outcome-based learning, which is interactive in nature. In each course students get the opportunity to learn the application of theories in real life context. This is done through various teaching methodologies i.e. case studies, report writing based on real life data, group discussions, presentations, interview sessions, court visit, workshops and submission of dissertation at the end of the final semester.
- Fair and honest evaluation of students is carried out by the faculty members. This is ensured by strictly adhering to invigilation guideline, following prescribed format for moderation and scrutiny.
- Qualified faculty members are very much cooperative. Their accessibility and involvement in the learning process help students to excel.
- Strict adherence to 70% attendance and marks allocation policy in this regard contribute towards better performance of students.

Staff & Facilities

- The faculties of department of L&HR earned degrees from internationally reputed universities at home and abroad.
- UAP has a transparent, fair, appropriate and properly documented policy for recruitment and other facilities.
- UAP has an attractive pay scale with the scope of time to time revision which includes salary, festival bonuses, provident fund and gratuity for academic and non-academic staffs.

Physical Facilities

- UAP has its exquisite permanent campus at the heart of the capital.
- Department of L&HR runs its programs from its city campus. It's class rooms are equipped with modern amenities.
- The department has also internet connectivity both for the faculty members and students, separate departmental seminar room, a state of the art computer laboratory.
- UAP has a well-equipped central medical center to meet medical emergency.

- There are separate rooms for professors, associate professors, assistant professors and cubicles for lecturers, conference room and lounge with modern facilities.
- There is a spacious and well ventilated cafeteria to provide foods at an affordable rate.

Student Support Services

- UAP has a separate directorate named “Directorate of Student Welfare (DSW)” to provide necessary student support. DSW is in charge of organizing co-curricular activities, personal & professional development programs and providing financial support for underprivileged students.
- To cope with the current industry demands, the department takes initiatives which includes various workshops, seminars, symposium, law lecture series, moot court competition, debate competitions, sports competitions, and Job fair.
- Department of L&HR strive to continually impart knowledge to the students beyond classroom teaching. As part of this, the department has introduced ‘Entrepreneurship Lecture Series’ to learn and realize entrepreneurial qualities of eminent Law personalities.

Research & Extension

- UAP has a central research institute named The Institute for Energy, Environment, Research and Development (IEERD) to facilitate research & extension. The faculty members receive funds for various purposes which include basic research works, publication of articles in journals, registration fees and conveyance for participation in national and international conferences.
- The department arranges workshops on research methodologies in an attempt to improve faculty members’ research expertise capabilities. There is a separate budget allocation for participation in workshops home and abroad.
- Students’ involvement in research activities is ensured under the supervision of the faculty members.

Process Management & Continuous Improvement

- To ensure internal quality, DBA has standard policies for admission, question moderation, examination, grading, internship and evaluation.

11.2 Weaknesses

Governance

- At present depart doesn't have any senior faculty (associate professor and Professor) having Phd degree. Though recently former attorney general has joined as the Director of Law School.
- The existing administrative staff needs to be more efficient and competent in carrying out the responsibilities.
- The filing and documentations are not up to the mark.
- Peer Observation & Feedback Process can play a vital role in quality improvement which has not been introduced yet.
- The entity doesn't have any specific Code of Conduct for faculties & Staffs.
- UAP doesn't provide any opportunity for the employers to participate in evaluation process.
- There is unanimity among the alumni, students, teachers, and non-academic staffs about the insufficiency of the institutional structures and facilities.
- High dissatisfaction has been found among the faculty members, students and alumni as to the research & extension of the Department of Law
- As to institutional facilities students have suggested for providing efficient library, E-library, access to online legal materials, sufficient reference books/journals/reports in the seminar library.

Curriculum Design & Review

- Although the department recently has revised its curriculum, still have some anomaly.

Student Admission Progress & Achievement

- The ratio of the intake to the candidates is not satisfactory.
- The timing of the admission test during fall semester is not appropriate as it collides with that of public universities.

Teaching Learning & Assessment

- The number of full time faculty members is not enough so the department depends on some adjunct faculty members of public universities and reputed professionals. The adjunct faculty members are not able to allocate enough time for student counseling and guidance regarding the subject matter.

Staff & Facilities

- The pay scale of senior faculty members is not equivalent to the industry standard.
- There is no sick leave policy in the service rule of UAP.

Physical Facilities

- UAP doesn't provide any student's common room for the students.
- The university has indoor sport center; however it does not have its own outdoor sport field for arranging outdoor sports.
- There are no facilities for transportation and accommodation for students.
- Ambulance service is not available in the institution.

Student Support Services

- Nonacademic departmental support staff needs to be groomed and more professional in providing better services.
- Placement cell is not fully functional.
- Club activities are not yet broad enough to fully prepare students to become aware of their social commitments.

Research & Extension

- Department lacks the guidance of senior faculty members possessing research acumen and experience.
- Faculty members are engrossed with administrative responsibilities.

Process Management & Continuous Improvement

- Previously Department of L&HR followed a self-assessment system which was not structured and implemented regularly.

11.3 Opportunities

Governance

- UAP has scope for improvement of administrative performance by recruiting more efficient and experienced personnel at different levels of administration.

Curriculum Design & Review

- By keeping abreast with recent field practices, taking potential employers perspectives and experts' opinions into account in designing and upgrading curricula, Department of L&HR can gain significant competitive advantages in the professional field.

Student Admission Progress & Achievement

- By ensuring quality education the program can build a strong brand image which will attract more eligible students.
- Adoption of advanced technology can be taken into account.

Teaching Learning & Assessment

- Department of L&HR can hire more faculty members at senior level with PhD degrees from renowned universities with substantial experience in teaching and research.

Staff & Facilities

- Department of L&HR can attract more experienced senior faculty members by revising the pay scale.

Physical Facilities

- UAP has purchased 3 acres of land in the planned city named "Rajuk Purbachal" where the campus can provide other facilities including open field and residential facilities.
- A gymnasium with modern equipment has been proposed for the students.

Student Support Services

- Functional alumni database can ensure the access to the job market for the fresh graduate.

- Mock interview session conducted by experts from the industry along with the faculty members can aid the students to prepare for real life interviews. LLB is planning to start mock interview session.
- Having collaboration with corporate bodies is crucial for ensuring placement of the graduates. Therefore, LLB program is trying to sign MOU with the renowned corporate bodies.

Research & Extension

- Faculty members can take part in more training and workshops arranged by research bodies.
- Joint research program could be arranged in collaboration with renowned national and international universities and professional bodies.

Process Management & Continuous Improvement

- By continuous quality improvement, Department of L&HR will be able to meet the upcoming challenges and demands of the professional world.

11.4 Threats

Governance

- Better governance of other universities poses a threat to students' and faculties' satisfaction.

Curriculum Design & Review

- Without having any optional courses, students may find difficulties in their practical field.

Student Admission Progress & Achievement

- Other private universities have much more aggressive promotional strategies.
- There is an overall decline in the education standard of prospective candidates hailing from national curriculum based education.

Teaching Learning & Assessment

- Quality improvement at the expected level would become difficult to achieve if the department fails to hire more experienced senior faculty members.

Staff & Facilities

- Some other private universities are recruiting through talent hunt with lucrative compensation that will lead the loss of experienced faculty members.
- Faculties are attracted in public jobs. They think public job are more secured.

Physical Facilities

- Some of the private universities have already started their operation in a permanent campus with full-fledged facilities.

Student Support Services

- Other private universities are arranging international conferences and seminars at regular interval which are making them more advanced compared to Department of L&HR of UAP.

Research & Extension

- The Law schools of other universities are emphasizing more on research and extension compared to our department of UAP, which may lead to a slowdown in knowledge dissemination of the latter.

Process Management & Continuous Improvement

- Some of the private universities are already in the process of quality improvement system which may gain them first mover advantage.

CHAPTER XII

CONCLUSION AND IMPROVEMENT PLAN

12.1 Recommendations for Quality Assurance and Further Development

For the purpose of quality assurance, internationalization of quality and further improvement, the Department of Law and Human Rights needs to take the following initiatives and address the following issues:

- Department of L&HR currently is suffering from a shortage of full-time faculties; this is manifested in the presence of a good number of part-time faculties teaching in the various programs. To address this concern, the department looks forward to recruiting faculty members with PhD in the shortest possible time.
- The department has set forth its vision and mission statements in the curriculum. However, various stakeholders, i.e., students, staff and all the faculty members must embrace and own these well-articulated vision and mission statements. In this regard, the department needs to act for proper dissemination of these statements.
- Institutional structures and facilities of the Department needs to be strengthened. The Department should take initiatives for providing efficient library, E-library, access to online legal materials, sufficient reference books/journals/reports in the seminar library, leisure facilities, student friendly classroom, hygienic toilets for both males and females, and more facilities for sports.
- The Department has to introduce career counseling office.
- The Department should ensure tutorial classes.
- Department should launch exchange programs with prominent international institutions for higher education and research.
- Conducting research and publications by the faculty members is a key ingredient for a thriving Law department. Not only should they perform their teaching responsibilities, faculty members must also involve themselves in cutting-edge research. In this regard, it is of utmost importance that they continuously hone their research skills so that they can publish in journals with high impact factor. Besides, the department needs to arrange faculty training, both local and overseas, in areas of research methodologies and/or other pedagogical issues on a continuous basis.

- For the purposes of quality assurance, internationalization of quality and further improvement of the Department will either need sufficient budget from the Government or mobilize fund from its internal sources. It is suggested that the Government should allocate sufficient budget for adequate institutional infrastructure & facilities, research & extension, and faculty members' salary, research and seminar allowance, and other professional benefits and facilities. (Or alternatively the University and Department can consider mobilizing internal resources for quality assurance and further development. It may be mentioned that Bangladesh Government's Eighth Pay Commission Report and the University Grants Commission have recommended to collect funds from internal sources.)

12. 2 Strategic plan for further improvement of the Department

Department Goals for the next few years

The Long term Goal of the Department of Law and Human Rights is to place itself among the top law schools in Bangladesh by the year 2021.

In order to realize this long term goal the Department adopted the necessary policy initiatives and action plan in the coming years. In this connection, the department set the following goals for the academic year of 2016-17:

- To ensure continuous compliance of the policy initiatives adopted by the IQAC of the UAP and SA committee of the Department of Law and Human Rights.
- To form an 'Internal Faculty Performance Evaluation Committee' to monitor the performance of the faculty member.
- To arrange regular meetings and workshop to revise and update the present curriculum.
- To ensure rigorous involvement of the faculty members in research works and encourages them to publish regularly.
- To ensure an increase participation of the students in national and international moot court competition as part of developing a healthy environment for co-curriculum activities.
- To maintain the Department's commitment in promoting the extra-curriculum activities.
