University of Asia Pacific (UAP) provides twenty-four hour high-speed Internet facilities to its students. All the computers of lab and other places of each department of UAP are connected under a LAN and high-speed Internet line. There is a web site of UAP that contains important information about faculty members, ongoing research, admission, faculty search, exam of UAP etc., which is updated each week and URL is www-uap.edu. Each student of UAP is given an individual email account at uap-bd.edu domain that recognizes the UAP students.

Student can submit their assignments through Internet. The Internet facility provides services to seven different departments of UAP and two hundred users can browse simultaneously.

Besides, Wi-fi facility is installed in every Department of UAP in order to provide wireless internet access to all within the University premises. Students can access internet in the classroom or corridor directly from their laptop or mobile through Wi-fi during their stay in the campus.
